

College Is Recipient of Largest Single Gift Ever; Winkel Trust Established with College Foundation

The Plattsburgh College Foundation has received the largest single gift in its fifteen-year history. George and Nina Winkel of Keene Valley have established a trust fund which will provide approximately $390,000 to the Foundation.

Acting SUNY Plattsburgh President Sherry H. Penney commented, "The college is very grateful to the Winkels for this most generous gift, as well as for their support over the past few years. This gift provides a sense of permanence to the Winkel Sculpture Collection and Courtyard, as well as a stability for related areas of our art collection. The provision for scholarships and faculty development projects also contained in the trust helps to create a balanced education program. It's wonderful to see such support for the college in our community."

Foundation President Curtis E. Shipman said, "This trust fund will be a lasting tribute to George and Nina Winkel. While the amount of the gift is impressive, we are especially grateful that the Winkels have chosen a method of giving that will continue to benefit the college and its students for years to come."

Shipman added, "We'd also like to express our appreciation to Edward Brohel for his part in the creation of the trust. The Winkels have told us that their confidence in him as the college's gallery director was a decisive factor in its establishment."

Income derived from the Winkel Trust Fund will be used for the care and support of the Winkel Collection, which contains numerous pieces of sculpture created by Nina Winkel. The collection will soon be displayed in a courtyard adjacent to the Myers Fine Arts Gallery.

The Winkel Trust Fund will also support the further development, maintenance and proper presentation of the college's permanent art collection. The Winkels noted in the agreement, "It is our hope . . . that a professional museum will be established at SUNY Plattsburgh that will enrich the college and the community. This will provide an educational and visual art resource to the State University of New York at Plattsburgh and the North Country where we have spent a good deal of our lives."

In addition, funds will be allocated to the visual arts and the humanities at Plattsburgh to be used for student scholarships, faculty development and projects, and/or academic program enrichment.

George and Nina Winkel are long-time residents of Keene Valley, NY. Originally from Germany, they fled Europe in 1942, having lost family, all their possessions and cultural ties.

Nina Winkel is an internationally renowned sculptor whose work has led her to be named an Academician of the National Academy of Design. She has earned five gold medals, including the E. Watrous Gold Medal and the Samuel F.B. Morse Medal. She is also a Fellow of the National Sculpture Society and a winner of that organization's Louis Bennett Prize. In 1984, she received an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts degree from the State University of New York.

In stating her philosophy, she has written, "A positive acceptance of life, and particularly of its sorrows and difficulties, can make a human being strong to transmit lasting values to others through his or her

Penney: 'Outcomes, Assessments Important to College's Future

"Times are difficult in higher education." With those words, SUNY Plattsburgh's Acting President Sherry H. Penney greeted the faculty Monday afternoon on its return to campus for the opening of the spring semester.

Penney listed some of the problems in higher education today, beginning at the top. "Part of our problem is that the Secretary of Education (William Bennett) attacks us left and right. . . . That makes us somewhat afraid to discuss our weaknesses because he will say, 'See, I told you so.' "

She continued, "The President's proposed budget, announced last week, has reduced the amount of money for financial aid one more time, creating a substantial difficulty for our students and for us." Not only could New York lose considerable aid during the next two years, she said, but the tax reform bill may lead to a reduction in private gifts to colleges.

"We have not done as good a job as we should in making the public understand the real costs of higher education," Penney said, "how institutions have been affected by inflation and what can be done to help the situation."

Penney then applauded a report by the Association of American State Colleges and Universities which calls for state-funded educational institutions to assume a leadership role in producing additional teachers, to play a major role in economic development, and to increase access to higher education. The report, she explained, also calls for increased state funds to enhance faculty vitality and excellence in teaching.

Penney also briefly summarized for the faculty former SUNY Chancellor Ernest Boyer's report titled College — The Undergraduate Experience in America. That report suggests a focus on outcomes and on better measures of what colleges are doing, and calls for those institutions to use the results of assessments to improve themselves. Both reports, she said, "are important to Plattsburgh, as we set directions for the future."

Boyer's report, she said, identifies five characteristics in evidence at excellent colleges. Excellent colleges, Boyer claims, exhibit the following:

- Their goals are clear.
- They care about teaching.
- They know who their students are.
- There is a spirit of community on the campus.
- The campus can document student achievement.

After reviewing each area, Penney concluded that, while issues in each area must be resolved, "On Boyer's list, we are doing quite well. With a workable agenda which outlines areas for additional attention, this institution can be well positioned to meet the next decade and the 21st century."

Penelope Clute, Local Attorney, Appointed to College Council

Governor Mario Cuomo has appointed Plattsburgh attorney Penelope Clute to the SUNY Plattsburgh College Council. Clute will serve a seven-year term which expires January 5, 1994, and succeeds former Council member Jean Amatucci Fox.

"We welcome Ms. Clute to the College Council," said Acting President Sherry H. Penney. "She comes highly recommended as an enthusiastic, hard worker, and we look forward to having her join the college family."

Council Chairman Robert Garrow said, "I'm sure Ms. Clute will be a valuable addition to the Council. Her experience and education will surely enhance and enrich our deliberations."

Clute is a founding partner of the law firm of Clute, Clute and Thompson and concentrates on the practice of criminal law, corrections, matrimonial law and appellate work. She was an adjunct professor at the college from 1978 to 1984 and taught courses related to prisons and the law. She is the author of "The Legal Aspects of Prisons and Jails," a text published in 1980 by Charles C. Thomas & Sons that is in use in criminal justice classes here and at other institutions and in the training of corrections officers.

Clute graduated from Wayne State University Law School in 1973. She received a bachelor's degree, with honors, in political science, from Michigan State University in 1967.

work, not so much by a reasoned program, but by the natural and spontaneous productiveness of a loving nature. The ideal artist is like a fruit tree, bringing forth its fruit regardless of gatherers or markets. Art is love, transformed into work."

George Winkel is a retired executive vice president of a major international food importing company. Discussing the creation of the trust fund, he said, "We are satisfied to be able to leave as our legacy the Winkel Sculpture Collection and this educational trust. The Plattsburgh College Foundation has given us the opportunity to project into the future the values and concerns to which we have devoted our lives."

Nursing Students Seek Campus Volunteers for Health Course

"Health Promotion" is the title of a course to be introduced this semester for second year nursing students, and the department of nursing is looking for campus community families to volunteer to participate in the study.

Janet Alexander, associate professor of nursing, explained that the course will be the first clinical experience for the students enrolled, and that each student will be required to make at least three home visits this semester to learn about how people stay healthy. She said that each home visit will last about an hour, and that the students' question line will focus on diet, sleep patterns, exercise and other information related to health.

"We are particularly interested in all age groups among families, so it doesn't matter whether participants range in age from toddlers and teenagers to senior citizens," said Alexander. "All we need now are families willing to have a nursing student visit with them three times between January and the end of April. Where are we likely to find more cooperation than within the Plattsburgh State 'family?' "

Campus personnel willing to assist, or who would like further information, are requested to leave name and number with the nursing department (564-3124).

and cultural institutions throughout the U.S. The CFDC was established here in mid-October under auspices of the college's Center for the Study of Canada and Feinberg Library at the request of, and with financial support from, Canada's Department of External Affairs. Its first film order was filled on November 15.

"We have since shipped films to colleges and universities in all parts of the United States," said Lanoue. "Many of the requests have come from colleges that have Canadian studies programs or minors or offer Canadian content courses."

Lanoue said that all films are 16 mm but that the collection is scheduled to be converted to video format at some future date. She pointed out that the National Film Board of Canada will continue to supply newer films as they become available. Members of the campus community who wish to borrow or preview films or obtain a copy of the center's catalog may call (564-2396) or visit the center.

Prior to joining the college, Lanoue was affiliated with the SUNY Albany Franco-American and Quebec Heritage Series funded by the National Endowment of the Humanities. She holds the bachelor's degree in American studies from the University of Kansas and the master's in bilingual education from the University of Maine at Orono.

Amell Steps Down From Council

Bernard Amell, a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh College Council for the past eleven years, has resigned from that post, effective January 1, 1987.

"We'll miss Mr. Amell's presence on the Council," said Council Chairman Robert Garrow. "He has been a sincere and able advocate of programs and activities designed to benefit the students of SUNY Plattsburgh, as well as a staunch supporter of efficient and effective management."

Amell was originally appointed to the Council in December, 1975, by then-Governor Hugh Carey to fill the unexpired term of John Pell. He was subsequently appointed to a full nine-year term in September, 1978 by Governor Mario Cuomo.

A retired corrections officer, Amell served four terms as Town of Plattsburgh supervisor and two terms as County Legislator for Area Four before being elected Clinton County Clerk in 1973, a position he continues to hold.

SEFA Drive Ends; Improvement Shown Over 1985 Campus Effort

The final results of the 1986 campus campaign in support of the State Employees Federated Appeal (SEFA) are in, and they indicate significant improvement in comparison with the previous year.

Dr. Thomas Moran, assistant vice president for academic affairs, who coordinated the campus effort, reports that Plattsburgh State employees contributed $20,796 to SEFA during the drive that began in October and ended prior to the New Year. The total represents an increase of nearly $5,000 or 31 percent in comparison with the amount raised in the college community in 1985.

"We're pleased that the campaign has shown a gain," said Moran. "The results indicate that participation among faculty and professional staff improved substantially, but that it dropped some among classified employees."

Moran expressed the opinion that the annual drive can continue to yield better results, but that growth will depend upon three principal factors: a better system of distributing campaign materials; development of a campaign gift/pledge card that is easier to understand and fill out; and an improved identity of SEFA, and its relationship to the Clinton County United Way drive, among prospective contributors. In addition to United Way, SEFA incorporates state and county health agencies and 16 international service agencies.

Streaking Cardinals Avenge Only Conference Loss at Merrimack

The Plattsburgh State hockey team rode the MVP performance of goaltender Craig Barnett to win the Merrimack Blue-Gold tournament last weekend. Barnett turned aside 35 shots against Air Force to lead the Cardinals to a 3-2 first round win. All-Tourney selection Dave Piromalli scored twice, including the game winner, to provide the offensive spark. Barnett starred in the championship game against the hosts, stopping 39 Warrior shots on goal. Defenseman Chris Panek, an all-tournament pick, scored a pair of goals for the Cardinals who avenged their only ECAC loss in defeating Merrimack. Two weeks ago Plattsburgh defeated UMASS-Boston 9-5 and the Cardinals today are atop the ECAC West with a 10-1 record. The Plattsburgh team, 15-5 overall, travels to Brockport and Buffalo this weekend for a pair of SUNYAC games before returning home on Sunday to face the Lakers of Oswego State.

Phoebe Sturm's women's basketball team started the semester on the right note by winning three straight games to move to 4-2 on the season. The Cards routed Middlebury 92-63 on Wednesday behind T.J. Cornwright's 28 points. On Saturday Plattsburgh whipped Hartwick 67-54 behind 18 points from Cornwright and 14 from Donna Dixon. The following day the Cards blitzed homestanding RPI 80-63 as Cornwright scored 29 points and chipped in with nine rebounds and six steals.

The men's basketball team whipped Middlebury 89-63 as John Ramsey ripped the Panthers with 34 points on 15-16 shooting. Holman Harley added 24 points for Plattsburgh, which faces Castleton State this evening at 8 in Memorial Hall.

Cardinals vs. Moscow-Spartak a Successful Event

Acting President Sherry Penney drops the ceremonial first puck (photo, right) to begin the Dec. 19 exhibition hockey game between the Plattsburgh State Cardinals and the touring Moscow Spartak team. Facing off are Spartak Captain Sergey Shepelev (left) and Cardinal senior tri-captain Dave Piromalli. The powerful and skillful skating Soviets prevailed, 10-6, in the highly entertaining contest that attracted a full-house crowd of 3,500 to the Field House arena and was telecast live by WPTZ-TV (NBC, Channel 5) in Plattsburgh. Plattsburgh State was one of three eastern college hockey teams (and the only one from Division III) to play Spartak during a December tour dominated by American Hockey League professional opponents, and the Cardinals' six goals against the Soviets (who returned home undefeated) represented the most scored against them to that date by any U.S. team.

Presidential Search Reduced to 20 Semi-finalists

The campus committee appointed to conduct the search for the next president of SUNY Plattsburgh has narrowed the list of active candidates to 20 semi-finalists.

College Council and Search Committee Chairperson Robert M. Garrow reported that the group met last Tuesday and pared the list from an original 85 applicants. He said that letters have been mailed to the semi-finalists, notifying them of their status and inviting them to add to their files or to otherwise provide evidence of their qualifications.

"The search is on schedule," declared Garrow. "I am impressed with the work of the committee. Each member has taken the responsibility seriously, and each came to last Tuesday's meeting prepared to discuss knowledgeably his or her opinions regarding every one of the 85 applicants or nominees." The search committee is composed of 18 persons representing all college constituencies.

Garrow said that the committee will meet again on January 29 to develop a list of finalists. This group may consist of eight or ten candidates who will be invited to campus for interviews to be scheduled during the latter part of February and in early March. "There will be ample opportunity for all members of the college community to participate in the interview process," Garrow emphasized.

In April, members of a search sub-committee will visit the campuses where the finalists are currently employed. The final reduction among candidates is scheduled to take place later in April. The timetable calls for the Search Committee to select and recommend three candidates — with all relevant documentation — to the Council by May 1. If the Council determines one of the three to be acceptable, it then recommends that candidate to the acting chancellor of the University and to the SUNY Board of Trustees.

Research, Project Grants Total Nearly $213,000 in December

December was an excellent month in terms of research grants and project contracts awarded to college faculty and programs. The Office of Sponsored Research and Programs reports that six separate proposals totaling $212,784 received funding last month.

The largest award, from the U.S. Army Medical Research and Development Command, totaled $128,484 and went to Dr. Roger P. Hamernick, professor of hearing and speech science, to continue his research entitled "Evaluation of Mammalian Inner Ears for Noise Induced Pathologies." The college's Economic Development and Technical Assistance Center (TAC) received $58,600 to fund two separate projects. TAC was awarded $50,000 by the Adirondack-North Country Association, a state-funded economic development advocacy and membership group in the northeastern New York region, in support of "Venture Capital Network of New York." The project will provide a "matchmaker service" for private investors, businesses and entrepreneurs in TAC's service region. Additionally, the Center received $8,600 from the North Country Regional Economic Development Council to conduct a "Adirondack Products Trade Fair" in Saratoga Springs from April 29 - May 1. The fair will bring together between 75 and 100 North Country producers with up to 400 buyers from New York and parts of Canada and New England.

Dr. Gerald Kokoska, professor of chemistry, received $20,000 from the American Chemical Society/Petroleum Research Fund in support of an investigation entitled "EPR of Medium Molecular Weight Compounds." Dr. Edward Miller, assistant professor of chemistry, was awarded $2,000 by the same agency as a supplementary grant to an earlier $18,000 awarded to study "Semiconducting Polymers containing Manganese in A Five-Membered Metallocyclic Ring. Preparation and Characterization." And, finally, Dr. Donald Adams, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, has been awarded $3,700 by the Finnish Academy of Sciences to investigate "Relationship of Sediment pH to the Decomposition of Organic Matter and Sediment Gas Composition."

Times Story Makes Reference to College's Value Added Project

Plattsburgh State was mentioned prominently in a front page article in last Sunday's The New York Times dealing with how American colleges and universities are responding to pressures to "prove that their students are being educated."

Headlined, "Colleges Prodded to Prove Worth," the article, by Times education editor Edward Fiske, cites a report issued last summer following a meeting of the National Governors' Association which said in part that: "Many colleges and universities do not have a systematic way to demonstrate whether student learning is taking place." In a reference to the college's Value Added Project, the article continues:

Dormitory Residents Raise $953 in Support of United Way Drive

On-campus students have collected and contributed $953 to the Clinton County United Way Fund Drive.

Senior Stuart Wirth, who serves as Residence Hall Programming Coordinator, explained that the twelve dormitory councils planned and held various fund-raising events last semester to raise money for the drive, which supports a number of local non-profit agencies. Among the events that were held to raise money were penny and can drives, tuck-in services, roommate and dating games, VCR rentals and service auctions.

"The different dormitory councils did a great job," Wirth said, "to support these local agencies through the United Way."

performances are scheduled. Auditions will be held on-campus and in various locations around the state beginning in late April for the 40 openings in the workshop.

Carol Estey will direct this year's musical and serve as a member of the workshop faculty. Also on the staff this year will be Richard Zielinski, musical director; R. Mitchell Fore, scenic design and technical production; and Martin Pakledinez, costume designer and supervisor. Probert said that two guest artists are expected to appear in "Bye, Bye Birdie" and serve as faculty members, but negotiations have not been finalized.

Details and auditions information are available from the Center for Art, Music and Theatre at 518-564-2180.

"The State University of New York College at Plattsburgh (sic) plans to test students when they arrive and at the end of their sophomore year, and seniors will be tested in their field of concentration. Students will fill out questionnaires three times in their college careers to gauge their growth in areas such as self-confidence and aesthetic appreciation.

"Already, in response to evidence that students think they are not getting sufficient intellectual challenge from each other, Plattsburgh is planning to create sections in dormitories where students can live with others taking some of the same courses."

The latter quote, according to Vice President for Academic Affairs Dr. Jerome Supple, pertains to a proposal that is in the preliminary discussion stages here.

Sexual Harassment Prevention Aim of Internal Video Project

"The best way to prevent sexual harassment is through education." Dr. Mary Roark, chair of the campus Sexual Harassment Committee, says that's the reason that her committee has had two videotapes made on the subject and why faculty members are being encouraged to view and discuss the tapes.

Roark said the committee has been active for several years and is charged primarily with educating members of the college community about sexual harassment, what it is and what they can do if it happens to them. Last year, with the assistance of Lawrence Arcarese of the communications department and students in one of his classes, a videotape containing a series of vignettes on the subject was prepared. "After each vignette, the tape is stopped so viewers can discuss what happened," Roark said. A second videotape, which focuses on faculty consideration of the subject, was made this year.

Roark said the videotapes are being shown to every department and center which requests them. This fall, eight departments and centers viewed them, and Roark is encouraging the remaining academic units to participate in the program this spring.

"These videotapes are just part of our on-going efforts to ensure the elimination of sexual harassment on this campus," Roark said. Members of the committee include Bette Brohel, Joseph Laramie, Lawrence Lorch, Dr. Naomi McCormick, Jean Morlock, Dr. Paul Morocco, Dr. Karen Pugliesi, Kurt Reisinger, Jaimie Trautman, and Dr. Roberta Wacker. Beverly Forster serves as an ex officio member.

Hockey Cards Continue Torrid Pace; Riley's Cagers Win Two

The Plattsburgh State hockey Cardinals swept three SUNYAC contests last week to move to 7-0 in the league and corner the inside track for home ice in the upcoming SUNYAC and ECAC playoffs. The Cards belted Brockport 13-1 and ripped Buffalo 8-3 on successive nights on the road. Joey Ferras notched three goals and three assists against the Golden Eagles, while Chris Panek tallied a pair of goals and one assist against Buffalo.

On Sunday, Plattsburgh used a third period explosion to whip Oswego 8-3. The win marked the third time this season that Steve Hoar's icers have beaten the Lakers. Dave Piromalli paced the Cards with three goals and two assists while Craig Barnett turned aside 30 Oswego volleys. The 18-5 Cardinals, owners of a 14-game winning streak, visit Elmira and Cortland this weekend for a pair of important ECAC contests. On Monday, defenseman Dave Doucette, a freshman from Etobicoke, Ont. was named ECAC Rookie-of-the-Week for his six-assist effort in the three Cardinal games.

Memorial Service Set for Bloom

A memorial service organized by members of the campus community will be held Monday at 5 p.m. in the Newman Center, Broad Street, for Toni Bloom, the 21-year-old Plattsburgh State student who was injured fatally last Sunday after being struck by a pickup truck at 1:50 a.m. while walking west on Court Street.

Bloom, a senior English/journalism major from Long Beach, was residing at 123 Court St. At Plattsburgh. She served as a member of the college's Judicial Board, the Intercollegiate Athletic Board and the Board of Directors of College Auxiliary Services. She was a member of the staff of the student newspaper, Cardinal Points, and for the past two years was a volunteer for the student team that solicited gifts from alumni in all 50 states in phonathon campaigns conducted under auspices of the Plattsburgh State Alumni Association.

Additionally, Bloom served as a hostess for summer session students. She was a leader in summer orientation programs for parents, co-chair of the Student Association's Weekends committee and assistant vice president for activities for the SA.

Contributions in Bloom's memory may be made to the Plattsburgh College Foundation.

On Saturday, Holman Harley ripped Binghamton State for 37 points and 12 assists to lead the Cardinals past the Colonials 110-96. Forward John Ramsey added 23 points and 13 rebounds for the 8-3 Cardinals, who face Albany State here tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The women's basketball team salvaged a weekend split of SUNYAC games by defeating Binghamton, 79-61 on Saturday. Donna Dixon led the way with 23 points. Grant Award to Rumney Sustains Faculty's Perfect Support Mark

Dr. Thomas Rumney, assistant professor of geography in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, has been awarded a grant from the Canadian Government's Research Grant Program to support his research project entitled "Canadian Economic Impacts on the Northern Borderland of New York State: A Geographical Inquiry." Rumney is an associate of the Center for the Study of Canada.

Dr. Richard Beach, director of the Center, said, "The Research Grant Program is very competitive and... this year less than 50% of the proposals received from faculty throughout the United States were funded. This accomplishment, therefore, is a credit to Dr. Rumney's ability as a grant writer and also recognizes the viability and importance of the project which he proposes to undertake."

Beach added, "Rumney's grant continues a tradition which we have had at SUNY Plattsburgh over the past eight years; namely, that every grant which has been submitted to the Government of Canada for either the Faculty Enrichment Grant Program or the Research Grant Program has been supported." Plattsburgh faculty are 16 for 16 on the former and four-for-four on the latter.

Converse, 71, Former Director of Admissions, Dies in Florida

Franklyn F. Converse, former director of admissions here, died Tuesday, January 13, 1987, in Fort Lauderdale, Florida following a brief illness. He was 71. Converse served as director of admissions from September 1, 1959 until his retirement on January 24, 1973.

Prior to coming to SUNY Plattsburgh, Converse taught high school math and science in Earlville, Greenwich, and Salem, New York, and in Hyannis, Massachusetts. He earned a bachelor's degree from Union College and a master's degree from SUNY Albany. In 1962 he was named Union's Outstanding Alumnus.

Converse was active in the New York State Teachers Association and the Plattsburgh Chamber of Commerce. He is survived by his wife and three children. Memorial donations may be made to the Union College Class of 1937 Scholarship Fund, Union College, Schenectady, NY 12308.

Governor's Budget Plan Has Some Positive Features

The Executive Budget proposed for State University contains some welcome news for SUNY, but it also has some serious implications for the operation of individual campuses if it is adopted without amendment. Governor Cuomo presented his budget for fiscal 1986-87 last week for consideration by the New York State Legislature.

"The Governor's budget does not include a tuition increase," commented Acting President Sherry H. Penney. "That, of course, is good news for our students and their parents." Other budget positives Penney noted include a recommended program for library automation and acquisitions and an upgrading of computer systems.

"Moreover, we can be pleased that the budget recommends $10 million to support SUNY's initiative to improve the quality of graduate education in the University," Penney continued. "Our campus is not targeted to lose positions from its current staffing level, but the new positions requested for our campus, which SUNY's trustees subsequently endorsed, have not been recommended."

The $23,956,000 budget proposed for the college contains an increase of $957,900 over the 1986-87 base, but all of the increase will need to be applied to meet negotiated salary increases. Increases for inflation, other than for library acquisitions and contractual services, were not supported.

An increased mandatory savings feature in the budget could have serious consequences for Plattsburgh and for other State University campuses.

"This budget item," said Penney, "recommends we save $380,200 in funds appropriated for 1987-88 by not filling positions that may become vacant during that fiscal year. The requirement would present difficulty because we know our normal savings are not enough to generate that figure."

The acting president concluded, "It should be emphasized that this is a preliminary budget. It is being studied by finance officers here and throughout the University. We will be in discussions concerning problem areas which we hope will be corrected before the final budget is approved by the Legislature."

50% Could Lose Out if Federal Financial Aid Proposal Is Ok'd

Well over half of the students at SUNY Plattsburgh will lose financial aid, totalling more than a million dollars, if President Reagan's student aid budget proposal is passed as it stands.

According to Allan W. Ostar, president of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, the proposal would cut student aid programs by half, eliminating the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG), the College Work-Study Program, the National Direct Loan Program (NDSL) and the State Student Incentive Grant Program. In addition, it would cut back funding for Pell grants, restricting that program to families with incomes under $15,000.

Figures from the Financial Aid Office illustrate the seriousness of the proposed cuts. SUNY Plattsburgh enrolls approximately 5,600 undergraduate students. This year, 100 students are receiving $80,432 in SEOG grants; 380 students hold work-study jobs worth $337,141; and 465 students have borrowed $458,000 through NDSL. While the State Student Incentive Grant Program goes to the state, not the campus, it eventually finds its way here through the state's Tuition Assistance Program (TAP), and this year 2,397 Plattsburgh students have TAP awards.

During the 1985-86 academic year, 1,500 SUNY Plattsburgh students qualified for Pell Grants. This year, due to a change in the eligibility limits enacted last spring, only 1,100 qualified. If the eligibility limit had been $15,000, only 852 students would have received grants.

Acting President Sherry Penney commented, "The devastation that the President's proposal will wreak on our students is immense. For many, there will be no way to make up the loss. Education has always been an issue of great importance to Americans, and an educated citizenry is the key to our future. This is no time to deprive an entire generation of the education that they deserve — and that we need!"

Penney has written to Senators Alphonse D'Amato and Daniel Patrick Moynihan and to Congressman David O.B. Martin, urging them to work to restore federal student aid to a reasonable level of support.

College 'Family' Provides Impetus for Increased Endowments

The Plattsburgh College Foundation will report endowment giving totaled nearly $108,000 in 1986. But the significance of the achievement is heightened by the fact that eight new funds were created during the year . . . and that the eight are characterized distinctively by giving by members of the Plattsburgh State "family."

"We received $47,459 in gifts to new endowments during the past year," said Don Garrant, assistant to the president for college relations and development and executive director of the Foundation. "All were generated by or because of members of the campus community, or by individuals in the community who are or who have been closely associated with the college for several years."

Garrant noted that the $5,000 Sokolowski Family Endowment, established last summer by Suzanne M. Sokolowski, director of financial aid at the college, and her husband, Donald, and son, Jonathan, initiated the advancement. This was followed by creation of a $10,000 endowment in honor of Dr. F. Reese Nevin, professor emeritus and former head of the college's division of science and mathematics, by his wife, Mrs. Theresa E. Nevin.

The endowment established last fall as a tribute to former President and Mrs. Joseph C. Burke generated contributions totaling $9,480. Elizabeth A. Kelly, president of Holcombe Abstract Company and a long-time member of the Board of Directors of the Foundation, created the Elizabeth Denicore Kelly Endowment with a gift of $3,000. Harry and Lynn Mowry established a $5,000 endowment (to be doubled in value on receipt of a matching gift). Mr. Mowry, who retired December 31 as vice president of Harris Graphics Corp., is a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh College Council, first vice president of the Foundation and chair of its annual giving campaign.

Campus Delegation in Albany to Fete Outgoing Chancellor

A dinner in honor of SUNY Chancellor Clifton R. Wharton, Jr. is being held in Albany this evening. Wharton has announced his resignation from the Chancellor's post effective February 1. Representing SUNY Plattsburgh at the testimonial are Acting President Sherry Penney; Dr. Eldridge Roark, vice president for student affairs; Don Garrant, assistant to the president for college relations; and Mal Lavery, director of alumni affairs. Wharton came to SUNY in January, 1976 after serving several years as president of Michigan State University. He will assume the post of chairman and chief executive officer of the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association — College Retirement Equities Fund of New York City.

and $2,040, respectively, were created last fall by Dr. William E. Krueger, professor of chemistry here, and his wife, Suzy Johnson. The Krueger and Johnson endowments will commemorate the memory of the parents of the donors.

Last among the new endowments received in 1986 was one for $10,814 in support of Canadian studies. Proposed by the college's Center for the Study of Canada and International Education, funds for this endowment resulted from gifts from alumni and friends of the Canadian studies program, Center faculty and staff and from the Canadian government.

Garrant pointed out that endowments may be created with the Foundation with a single gift or with a series of gifts totaling at least $5,000 over a five-year period. Many donors, he said, find it particularly attractive to establish endowment funds in their names or in the names of loved ones as a means to meet the future needs of the college.

"Such arrangements," he added, "offer an appeal that provides both a sense of accomplishment and an identity with Plattsburgh State that no other gift can provide."

Centennial Committee Appoints Sub-Groups, Assigns Tasks

The campus-wide committee formed to plan the celebration in 1989 observing the 100th anniversary of the founding of Plattsburgh State has been organized into sub-groups charged to develop concrete proposals.

According to Don Garrant, who is co-chair of the Centennial Planning Committee with Dr. John Myers, nine sub-committees have been formed and assigned specific tasks. The nine and their assignments are: Founders' Day (June 15), Garrant; Alumni Events, Malcolm Lavery; Finance, William Laundry; Artists' Series, Richard Probert; Speakers' Series, Dr. Thomas Moran; Academic Convocation, Dr. Douglas Skopp; Publications, Carolee Smith; Community Interface, Dean Nicholas Troisi; and Logos, Mementos and Theme, Patricia Bentley.

Each sub-committee is to prepare a written report by February 23 that includes proposed events with estimated costs. The larger committee is scheduled to submit its proposal to Acting President Sherry Penney and the college's Executive Staff prior to March 30.

Garrant said that each sub-committee is seeking volunteers to serve and/or to provide suggestions that will contribute to a comprehensive and memorable centennial celebration. Persons who wish to become involved are encouraged to contact the chair of the sub-committee(s) whose task most appeals to them.

Students Reminded to File FAF if Applying for GSL for '87-88

Students who expect to apply for a Guaranteed Student Bank Loan for the 1987-88 academic year are required to complete a 1987-88 Financial Aid Form (FAF) as a result of changes in application requirements contained in the Higher Education Amendments of 1986. Besides serving as the basic evaluation tool for the student loan, the FAF will also be used to determine eligibility for College Foundation scholarships, the College Work Study Program, the Educational Opportunity Program, Federal Nursing loans, Perkins National Direct Student Loans, and Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants.

Suzanne M. Sokolowski, director of financial aid, urges students to file the FAF by the end of February to insure its arrival on campus by the April 15 deadline. Student aid applicants are also required to submit copies of their parents and their own 1986 federal and state tax returns directly to the campus aid office by April 15. Students who wish to be considered for work-study positions should also complete College work-study registration cards in the campus financial aid office before the deadline.

The FAF and tax returns will also serve as the basis for consideration for those College Foundation Scholarships which require proof of need. Students should contact their department chairpersons for information on academic merit awards.

Search, Budget Discussion Top February College Council Docket

The status of the search for a president for Plattsburgh State and an analysis of the governor's proposed budget and its impact on the college headline discussion items on the agenda for next Thursday's meeting of the College Council. The meeting, open to all, will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge of the College Center.

The Council will also act on two resolutions — one commending former Council member Bernard Amell for his service to that body during the past 11 years, and the other endorsing expansion of cooperative education at the college as outlined in a Title VIII Comprehensive Demonstration Grant proposal. Additionally, the Council will consider a letter drafted for State Senator Warren Anderson and Assembly Speaker Melvin Miller urging passage of legislation that would give SUNY's Board of Trustees the right to set the salary for the Chancellor of the University and for the presidents of the system's campuses. It will also consider a letter from Acting President Sherry Penney addressed to Senators Alfonse D'Amato and Daniel Patrick Moynihan and to Congressman David O.B. Martin opposing proposed drastic cuts in funds for federal financial aid program for students.

requirements for the Guaranteed Student Bank Loan, Perkins National Direct Student Loan, and the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant as well as redefining independence. Students must demonstrate need for the student loan, regardless of the level of family income and the loan can no longer replace the parent or student contribution.

Shaffer Cited by Gov. Cuomo

Dr. Lawrence Shaffer, associate professor of psychology, has received a Certificate of Merit from New York State Governor Mario M. Cuomo, "on being awarded the American Psychological Association's Distinguished Teaching Award." Shaffer received the APA's honorable mention award last fall in recognition of his demonstrated influence in interesting students in the field of psychology; development of effective teaching methods, courses and/or teaching materials; outstanding performance as a classroom teacher; and professional activity on or away from campus."

Shaffer, a 1968 graduate of SUNY Plattsburgh, has been a member of the faculty since 1976. He is a recipient of the SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching, the Phi Eta Sigma Distinguished Faculty Award, and the college's Distinguished Service Award.

Publisher Honored

Acting President Sherry H. Penney (left) presented a Presidential Award of Honor to Benjamin M. Turnbull during a luncheon in his honor on Monday at the President's home. Turnbull, publisher of the Press-Republican for the past 16 years, is retiring at the end of this month. The award was presented in recognition of his efforts in fostering "a climate of friendship and mutual understanding based on fairness and openness between the college and the community." Shown with Penney and Turnbull is the Press-Republican's new publisher, Brenda Tallman.

Harley Sets New Scoring Mark; Hockey Cards Continue to Roll

Holman Harley broke a 30-year-old record by scoring 42 points in the Cardinal's 85-71 win over New Paltz State last Saturday. Murray Bullock '57 held the old record of 40. On Thursday Harley tallied 39, but it wasn't enough as Plattsburgh dropped an 89-85 decision to the Great Danes of Albany State. Earlier in the week Harley led five players in double figures as the Cards whipped homestanding Union College 100-83. For his efforts the 6-2 junior was named ECAC North Player of the Week.

Steve Hoar's Cardinal icers raced to their 15th and 16th consecutive wins over the weekend. On Saturday the Cards fought off pesky Cortland State 5-2 to move to 8-0 in SUNYAC play. The following afternoon Plattsburgh celebrated its own "Super Sunday" by defeating Elmira 4-3. Joey Ferras had two goals and an assist but it was a Jeff Bunyon goal with two minutes left that decided the contest. The 20-5 Cardinals played Union last night and host Canisius and Buffalo this weekend at the Field House.

The women's basketball team won two out of three games last week to run its record to 8-4 on the season. The Cards avenged an early season loss at St. Lawrence by whipping the Saints 59-43. Plattsburgh used a tenacious second half defense to help overcome a 30-19 halftime deficit. After dropping a heart-breaking 81-79 decision to Albany State, the Cards rebounded to belt New Paltz 78-62. Donna Dixon and Kim Nystrom both scored 16 points to pace Plattsburgh.

Students and Faculty Invited to Join Field Trip to Ottawa

Plattsburgh students and members of the faculty and staff are invited to participate in a field trip to Ottawa, Ontario on February 6-8 — the weekend of winter carnival in Canada's capital city. The trip, sponsored by the college's Center for the Study of Canada and Club Canada, will be by chartered bus. Departure will be from 133 Court St. at 12 noon on Friday, the 6th. Lodging in Ottawa will be at the centrally located Westin Hotel.

In addition to attending winter carnival events, participants will have the opportunity to hear a talk on "The Current State of Canada-U.S. Relations" by Stuart Hughes of Canada's Department of External Affairs and to tour Parliament, Carleton University and the Canadiana Collection at the National Art Gallery. Since space on the bus will be limited, priority will be given to students enrolled in Canadian content courses. The excursion, which includes round-trip transportation and hotel accommodations, but not meals, is being offered to students at a cost of $60 (triple occupancy). Costs for faculty and staff are slightly higher. Full details are available in the Center for the Study of Canada at 133 Court St. (564-2086).

The women's track team, with 206 points, dominated a six team field to easily win the Cardinal Classic. Albany State was a distant second with 94 points. Ellen Kissane, Lori Rohl and Rhonda Ruhmel won two events for the Cardinals. The men's squad finished third behind Division I Vermont and Division III power St. Lawrence. Bill Kinahan won the 300 meter run and set a school record in the 400 meter run with a time of 51.8 seconds. Wayne Lacey won the pole vault in a meet tying leap of 13'6".

The men's and women's swimming teams dropped decisions to Potsdam State on Saturday. NCAA qualifier Beth Keicher paced the Cards with three first place efforts. The senior won both diving events as well as the 50 yard freestyle. Art LaMarche paced the men with wins in the 50 yard freestyle and the 100 yard breaststroke.

Alumni Hockey Game Scheduled Saturday p.m. at Field House

Many of the finest players in Plattsburgh State hockey history will return to their alma mater this weekend to participate in the annual Red vs. White all-alumni game at the college Field House. The game is scheduled for 2 p.m. on Saturday at the ice arena, and admission is free.

Among the returnees will be two-time All-America defenseman (1978-79, 1980-81) Doug Kimura and scoring whiz Gaeton D'Anjou, who was a first-team All-America selection in 1982. Other top-notch performers will include former NCAA Division II all-stars, goaltender Rick Strack and forward Pierre Brunet, along with familiar names such as Danny Brown, Denny Poulin, Dave Rattray, John Swift and John Rice. Several players from the club sport era of the early 1970's will also compete. All participants will be the guests of the Field House management at Saturday evening's Cardinal varsity contest with SUNYAC rival University of Buffalo.

Honorary coaches for the game will be Robert Clinton, food service director at the college, and Lawrence Arcarese, associate professor of communication. The event is sponsored by the Cardinal Booster Club in cooperation with the Plattsburgh State Alumni Association.

Foundation Reports Record Giving Mark in 1986

A new record in annual giving to the Plattsburgh College Foundation was established in 1986 for the 17th consecutive year as final results show contributions from all sources surpassed $285,000. That report will highlight the agenda at today's annual meeting of the Foundation scheduled for 4 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge of the Angell Center.

Gifts to the Foundation's annual fund drive as of the end of fiscal 1986 on December 31 totaled $285,068. The amount represented an increase of $41,787 or 18 percent in comparison with the previous year's total, then also a record. Foundation President Curtis E. Shipman termed the outcome of the 1986 annual giving campaign "a tremendous achievement," adding, "The percentage increase is about five points above the national average, and that once again places Plattsburgh State in select company among institutions of higher education in the United States.

"The success of the Foundation," he continued, "says a lot about the spirit of generosity that prevails our institution and its importance as a resource to the North Country," she said, "and that sends a vital message to prospective students, to the general public and to leaders of state government."

Shipman attributed much of the success of the campaign to increased participation of donors in all giving categories. For example, he said, membership in the E. Glenn Giltz Society, established in 1986 in memory of the late Foundation president for many years, attracted 49 charter members whose gifts totaled $1,000 or more. Similarly, the Foundation's President's Club ($500 minimum gift), President's Associates ($250 minimum gift), and Century Club ($100 minimum gift) each registered significant gains in participation as well as income generated.

in our community. It says a great deal also about how highly our community regards SUNY Plattsburgh."

Acting President Sherry H. Penney said the outcome of the campaign served to reinforce her opinion that Plattsburgh is "a special place where very special people make exciting things happen educationally and culturally." In expressing gratitude to the Foundation membership, and especially the campaign leadership and volunteer workers, she said the ongoing success of Plattsburgh's annual giving program is unprecedented among SUNY's arts and science colleges. Search Down to 6-8 Candidates; 'Background Check' Team Formed

The search for a president of SUNY Plattsburgh has been narrowed to a maximum of eight candidates.

Search Committee and College Council Chair Robert M. Garrow reported that the search panel met last Thursday to reduce the active list from 20 semi-finalists. He said the remaining finalists include six front-runners and two "add-on" candidates who could move up on the list in the event some withdraw from further consideration.

"We have notified the six of their status as finalists by mail," said Garrow. "They have been asked to provide references, if they have not already done so, and to give us permission to begin a background check. This step will precede the on-campus interview process, which we expect to complete on schedule next month."

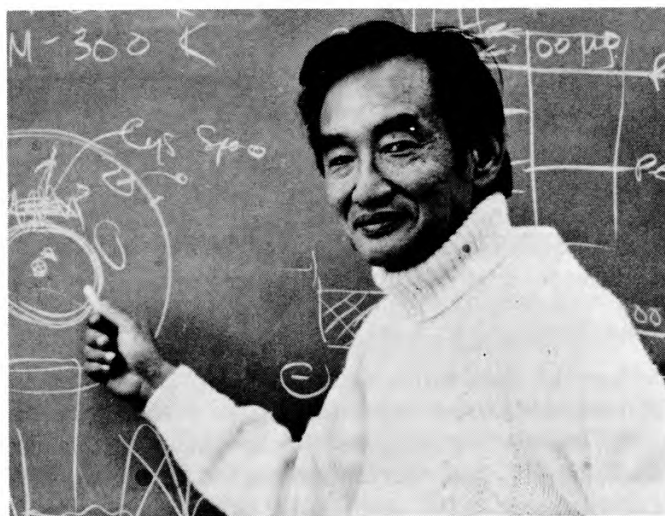

Garrow said a sub-committee has been formed to conduct the investigation of the candidates' backgrounds. He will represent the College Council. The others and the constituencies they will represent are: Dr. Robert Hofer, associate professor of mathematics, the faculty; Laurie Mante, the student body, and Don Garrant, assistant to the president for college relations and development, the administration.

SUNY Honorary Degree to be Conferred on Sato Here in April

Dr. Gordon H. Sato, director of the W. Alton Jones Cell Science Center in Lake Placid and a guest lecturer at this college, will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from SUNY during Honors Convocation ceremonies to be held at Plattsburgh State on April 26.

Sato, recommended for the honor by Plattsburgh, was among 46 honorary degree recipients approved SUNY-wide last week by the University's Board of Trustees. Black civil rights activist Alvin Poussaint, cartoonist Garretson B. (Gary) Trudeau, author Joyce Carol Oates and Albert Shanker, president of the AFT, are among others to be honored by other University campuses.

In addition to his lecture appearances here, the college's nomination of Sato emphasized his service to the Board of Directors of its In Vitro Cell Biology and Biotechnology program. It also stated, "He has encouraged our students to achieve academically and he continually supports their research endeavors."

Sato holds the Ph.D. in biophysics from California Institute of Technology. He conducted postdoctoral work at the University of California at Berkeley, and began tissue culture work as a postdoctoral student at the University of Colorado.

Sato's academic posts include professorships at Brandeis University and at the University of California at San Diego. He has taught also at the California Institute and at the University of Colorado Medical School.

A member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the National Academy of Sciences, Sato received the Rosenstiel Award in 1982. His honors include: Edwin J. Cohn Lecturer at Harvard University; invited speaker at the 50th anniversary of the biology department of California Institute of Technology; and honorary professor of biology at Tsinghua University, Beijing, China.

The author of more than 200 publications, Sato is a member of the Endocrine Society, past-president of the Tissue Culture Association from 1984-86, member of the International Cell Research Organization and the American Society of Biological Chemists. Sato has been, or is, a panel member on study sections of the National Institutes of Health, a member of its Breast Cancer Task Force, a member of the Council for Tobacco Research, and the Committee for Biomedical Research of the National Academy of Sciences.

Senior Business Major Chosen as ODK's 'Leader of the Year'

Ann A. McLaughlin, a senior business management major from Goshen, has been selected as "Leader of the Year" in the SUNY Plattsburgh circle of Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK), the national leadership honorary society. ODK membership is granted to undergraduates on the basis of academic excellence, service to campus and community and leadership in extracurricular activities.

McLaughlin, who was ODK "Sophomore of the Year" in 1985 and who maintains a 3.52 cumulative grade-point average, will now compete with nominees from 20 Circles in Province I for recognition as the society's Province Leader of the Year. If successful at that level, she will represent Province I in national competition. Three Plattsburgh nominees have been selected as Leader of the Year in Province I in the past six years.

McLaughlin has served the Plattsburgh Student Association (SA) as a senator, as chair of its Legislative Review Board and as Chief Justice of the SA Court. She has been an orientation leader and a resident assistant, having served as president of the campus R.A. Association in 1985. Selected for Who's Who Among Students this year, she has been vice president of ODK and president of Phi Eta Sigma, the national freshman honorary society.

McLaughlin has been a tutor in the college's E.O.P. program and a peer recruiter and tour guide for its Admissions Office. She is or has been a member of the Presidential Search Committee; the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching/Professional Service Committee; the Commencement Committee and the Viewbook Advisory Committee.

Finalists for Personnel Director's Post Interviewing on Campus

Four finalists for the position of Director of Personnel and Affirmative Action were scheduled to visit the college for interviews this week and early next week.

First to interview was Donald M. Lazzaro, manager of the personnel division at Harris Graphics Corporation in nearby Champlain. Lazzaro, who holds the B.S. in industrial relations from Lemoyne College, was on campus yesterday.

Jerre Fercho, director of personnel at North Dakota State University in Fargo since 1978, was scheduled to be on campus today. Fercho received the MBA from North Dakota State in 1975. Janet Saunders, manager of affirmative action and community relations for the Fortune 100 Corporation in Chicago since 1975, will interview here on Friday. Saunders holds the BBA in industrial psychology from Bernard M. Baruch College.

Thomas C. Anderson, executive officer for administration and finance in the School of Business at SUNY Albany since the summer of 1985, will interview on campus on Monday. Anderson holds the B.S. in business and M.S. in management from the University of Minnesota and has conducted advance graduate work there.

Open meetings with the candidates are scheduled

50-Minute Class Sessions Mark Academic Calendar for 1987-88

SUNY Plattsburgh has an official College Calendar for 1987-88, and it will mark a return to the traditional 50-minute class schedule. Its adoption ends a two-year experiment with a 55-minute calendar that shortened the academic year in 1985-86 and '86-87.

Under the new calendar, residence halls will open for students next fall on Sunday, August 30 and classes will begin on Wednesday, September 2. The Thanksgiving break will begin on Wednesday, November 25 with classes resuming on Monday the 30th. Fall semester classes will end at noon on Friday, December 18 with winter commencement scheduled for 2 p.m. that day.

Students will return to campus for the spring semester 1988 the weekend of January 17 and classes will convene on Wednesday the 20th. Classes end for the winter break on Friday, March 11 and resume on the 21st.

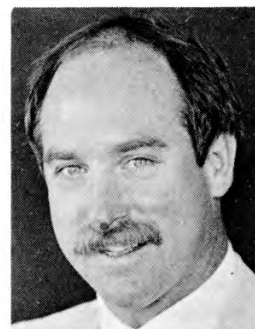

A calendar feature new to Plattsburgh is the establishment of a "study day" — next spring on Thursday, May 5, the day following the end of instructional classes. Final examinations week begins on Friday, May 6 and ends with semester's end on the following Friday. Commencement Day in 1988 is scheduled for Sunday, May 15.

for 2 p.m. on the days they are on campus in the Angell Center Conference Room.

Robert G. Moll has been serving as acting director of the college's Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action since the beginning of the current academic year. The position became vacant last spring with the resignation of Mayerlyn Miller.

Card Hockey Streak Continues; Three Garner All-Star Honors

The Cardinal hockey team continued its winning streak with three more victories this past week.

Steve Hoar

The Cards began by trouncing Union, 8-4, on Wednesday. The win was highlighted by a Jeff Bunyon hat trick. Dave Piromalli's game-winning goal with 27 seconds left in overtime sparked Plattsburgh to a 5-4 win over Canisius on Friday. The triumph was coach Steve Hoar's 75th in his three-year tenure at Plattsburgh making him the winningest coach in Cardinal hockey history. The following night the Cardinals routed Buffalo State (9-4) behind the two-goal, three-assist performance of Piromalli. Plattsburgh center Joey Ferras tallied five assists in the win.

Doug Riley's Cardinal basketball team finished the week with a split. Plattsburgh opened with a 91-73 loss to Potsdam State. Guard Holman Harley led the Cards in a losing cause with 29 points. The Cardinals avenged the loss on Friday with a 65-56 win over the Red Dragons of Oneonta. Once again, Harley paced the Plattsburgh team, scoring 31 points.

The honors keep pouring in on Cardinals athletes. For their performances during the past week, hockey players Shane Ferras and Dave Piromalli were named Rookie of the Week and Co-Forward of the Week, respectively, in Division III (East and West) of the ECAC. Harley was named to the 10-member Weekly Basketball Honor Roll in Division III of the ECAC.

Meanwhile, the Lady Cards won a pair of games this past week over Potsdam and Oneonta State. Plattsburgh upended the Bears 63-54 last Wednesday and blasted Oneonta 75-56 Friday. The Cards, playing without the services of Donna Dixon, were led by T.J. Cornwright's 20 points.

Plattsburgh's men's swimmers defeated Union College last Saturday 114-49. Art LaMarche, Alex Robinson and Steve French all had three first place finishes. The women dropped a 98-85 decision to Union. Beth Keicher and Lynn Kreuzer were triple-winners for the Lady Cards.

$13,000 (+18%), and the $87,694 total marked the first time in the 17-year history of Foundation fundraising that the alumni constituency led all other annual giving categories.

- Giving by businesses and corporations increased by more than $8,000 (+10%) and participation rose to an all time-time high of 242 firms, a gain of six.
- Giving to the Cardinal Booster Club more than doubled in comparison with 1985, with nearly $20,000 of the total representing contributions from members and the remainder counted as income from the sale of advertising space in the Field House ice arena and proceeds from production of the 1986-87 hockey team poster.
- Gifts from non-alumni "community friends" topped $35,000 or 18 percent over the goal for the year.

- College employees continued to broaden their support to the Faculty/Staff Campaign as 147 donors brought participation to $18,462 — an increase of 27 percent.

The Foundation president noted that two new fund drives were initiated during the report year which hold a great deal of promise for annual giving campaigns in the future. "We implemented a drive among parents of current students," said Shipman, "with the objective being funds with which to reburish the late night study area in Feinberg Library. The first effort produced $4,605 from 136 contributors. We also started a senior class fund in support of the alumni campaign, and that generated more than $4,000 — nearly all in pledges to be fulfilled over the next three years."

Food Service Contract Expires This Year; Bids Being Sought

College Auxiliary Services (CAS) is in the process of obtaining bids to provide food services for the contract period beginning July 1 of this year.

Stanley Supinski, executive director of CAS, explained that the State of New York mandates that food service contracts at state agencies be bid competitively every five years and that the agreement currently in effect with the Marriott Corp. is in its final year. Supinski pointed out that a food service committee appointed by the Executive Committee of CAS was convened in the fall of 1985 and charged to evaluate the college's food service program and to develop specifications for the next contract period.

"Our committee of five students and three members of the faculty and staff has made a number of visits to other campuses and has consulted as well with several groups and organizations here," said Supinski. "Specifications have been developed and five companies, including Marriott, have been invited to bid. After the proposals have been analyzed in accordance with established guidelines, the evaluation committee will make its recommendation to the CAS

Executive Committee. We expect a decision will be reached in early April."

Supinski said that the evaluation is proceeding on the premise that the quality of the present food service program at Plattsburgh must not be compromised. "The successful contractor will be required to maintain a high quality program and deliver services at a competitive price," he said. "We have also requested that bidding companies submit 'creative and innovative' proposals with regard to programming and facilities renovation."

Supinski advised students to expect an overall increase in the cost of the meal plan effective with the beginning of academic 1987-88 because of the change in the college calendar. He pointed out that the newly adopted calendar will require an increase of 11 serving days in 1987-88. Students currently pay $685 per semester for the 19-meal plan, and $647 per semester for the 14-meal plan.

The CAS food service evaluation committee is composed of Supinski, Cheryl Hogle, associate director of campus life, Dr. Marilyn Chase, director of the Center for Human Resources, and students Mark Migliaccio, Becky Lynch, Colleen O'Brien and Ann Schneider. The eighth member of the group was the late Toni Bloom, who was fatally injured last month when struck by a pick-up truck, and her post will not be filled.

Seven Appointed to College Foundation's Board of Directors

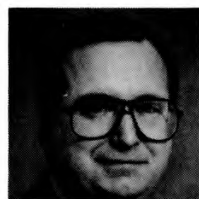

Seven new members were named to the Board of Directors of the Plattsburgh College Foundation during last week's annual meeting. Elected to a three-year term representing the community were Daniel Adams, George Bouyea, Sr., Anne Brandell, J. David Dame, and Albert F. Luck. Resolution Contesting Federal Cuts in Aid Passed by Council

The College Council has passed a resolution opposing President Reagan's proposed cuts in student aid. The resolution, adopted unanimously at last week's meeting, outlined the effect that the proposed cuts would have on the SUNY Plattsburgh campus (more than half of the students enrolled at Plattsburgh would be affected, losing more than a million dollars in financial aid). It states further that the Council "deplores the President's student aid program, believing that it would constitute a financial hardship for more than half of SUNY Plattsburgh students, and . . . urges the New York State Congressional

Hockey Cards Set New Mark; Harley on Record-breaking Streak

The Plattsburgh State Cardinals decisioned Geneseo State 7-5 to clinch the home ice advantage for the upcoming SUNYAC playoffs. The win also enabled the Cards to run their winning streak to 20 games, a mark that ties the ECAC East West record. A win over Potsdam this evening will give Coach Steve Hoar's team the new mark. Against Geneseo, Joey Ferras tallied two goals and one assist and Dave Piromalli scored one goal and two assists to pace the Cards to the victory. Plattsburgh closes out its regular season this Friday with a game against Cortland State.

Holman Harley continued to rewrite the Plattsburgh State basketball record books as he burned Norwich for 48 points in the Cardinals' 88-87 loss to the Cadets early last week. Plattsburgh swept a pair of SUNYAC tilts on the road over the weekend. On Friday, Harley scored 26 points and John Ramsey added 25 and seven rebounds to pace Doug Riley's cagers to an easy 93-75 win over Cortland State. The following night Harley established a new single-game assist record with 18 in Plattsburgh's 110-89 blowout of Binghamton State. The junior guard also scored 33 points for the 11-6 Cardinals, who are set to face Skidmore and Oneonta State on the road this weekend.

Harley

Phoebe Sturm's women's basketball squad breezed past Binghamton 69-56 to salvage a split of its SUNYAC games last weekend. On Friday, the Cards mounted a furious second half comeback, but it wasn't enough as they lost to Cortland 77-65. T.J. Cornwright tallied 22 points against Cortland, while Jill Provost ripped Binghamton for 21. The 11-6 Cards travel to Skidmore on Friday, and then to Oneonta on Saturday for an important SUNYAC East contest.

Presidential Search Committee Names 4 Finalists

The search for a new president of Plattsburgh State has been narrowed to four active candidates, and all four have accepted an invitation to participate in on-campus interviews during March.

The four finalists (in alphabetical order), with a brief administrative and academic profile on each, are:

Charles D. Breslin, president of the University of Charleston (WV) since 1984. Breslin was vice president for academic affairs at Iona College from 1980-84 following a two-year term as assistant chancellor for academic affairs for the State of New Jersey. He served Villanova University from 1968-78 — the first four years as a member of the faculty and the remaining six as dean of Villanova's College of Arts and Science. Breslin received the Ph.D. in higher education administration in 1969 from The Catholic University of America.

Richard S. Meyers, president of Western Oregon State College since 1983. He previously served a six-year term as superintendent-president and secretary to the Board of Trustees of Pasadena (CA) Community College and as dean of instruction (three years) and president (three years) of Cerro Coso Community College, Ridgecrest, CA. Meyers, who holds the Ph.D. in instructional technology from the University of Southern California (1971), has taught at both the University of California and California State University.

Jerome H. Supple, vice president for academic affairs at Plattsburgh State since 1978. Supple has twice served as acting president of SUNY Plattsburgh — from August to December in 1981 and from November 1985 to October 1986. He came to Plattsburgh from the State University College at Fredonia, where he had been professor of chemistry and later acting vice president for academic affairs and dean for general and special studies. He had served SUNY Central Administration as acting associate provost for undergraduate education from 1974-75. Supple received the Ph.D. in organic chemistry in 1966 from the University of New Hampshire.

Charles O. Warren, provost and vice president for academic affairs at SUNY Cortland since 1982. Warren, who was Cortland's acting president from July 1 to November 15, 1985, was Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science at Plattsburgh State from 1979-82. Prior to joining Plattsburgh, he has served as professor of biology, acting dean and later dean at Southwestern at Memphis (now Rhodes College). He has taught also at Memphis State University and the University of Florida. Warren received the Ph.D. in biology in 1966 from the University of Florida.

College Council and Search Committee Chairperson Robert M. Garrow described the on-campus interview schedule will be "rigorous," but added that "it will allow all campus constituencies ample opportunity to participate." He noted that the schedule will provide for a period on the second day of the visit when the candidates may meet with campus personnel of their choosing.

Garrow commended his colleagues on the 18-member search committee and praised the subgroup appointed two weeks ago to conduct background checks by telephone on the finalists. "We are satisfied that we have identified the four individuals best qualified to lead this institution. It has been an arduous process, but one that has been worth the effort," Garrow added.

Garrow said the dates of the candidates' interviews will be announced in this publication and in other media as soon as they are firm."

Selection of Campus President Focus of 'Tuesday Reflections'

"Selection of a Campus President" is the topic of a forum for the faculty to be held from 4:15 to 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday in the Cardinal Lounge of the Angell Center.

"Because selecting a president may be one of the most popular topics (if not controversial issues) of the year," states Dr. John L. Meyer, presiding officer of the faculty, in a memo being circulated on campus, "I have decided to call a faculty meeting in accordance with Article 1.5 of the Faculty Bylaws."

The agenda, designed to answer the questions, 'What qualities are we looking for in a new campus president? Who should our new chief administrator be? and Will the faculty have any 'in-put' into the selection process?' will include opening remarks by Meyer, and reports on the search from College Council and Search Committee Chair Robert M. Garrow and Search Committee Secretary Beverly Forster. It will conclude with an open forum session with questions and remarks from the floor.

MSA Interim Report Complete; Open to Faculty/Staff Review

The interim report of the Middle States Accreditation Periodic Review Committee has been distributed to members of the Executive Staff and Dean's Council, as well as to center directors, department chairs, and program coordinators. Members of the faculty and staff who would like to review the report may do so by contacting anyone on the distribution list.

Room Rent Increase Proposed to Meet Projected Expenses

A $50 room rent increase is being proposed by the college for the 1987-88 academic year, according to Dr. Eldridge Roark, vice president for student affairs. Roark called the increase, which will bring the cost of a residence hall room to $1,700 per year "modest," and indicated that the average SUNY-wide rent will be $1,750 next year.

"This year is the first year of dormitory self-sufficiency," Roark said, "and we now have to generate enough revenue through rents to pay for our projected expenses. Those expenses include payments on the bonded indebtedness, the cost of utilities, and the cost of personnel involved in operating and maintaining the residence halls."

If the projected fall occupancy rate is accurate, Roark anticipates that approximately $121,000 more than the cost of basic expenses will be generated. That money will be used for upgrading the dormitories and programming within them. Some of the proposed projects include extending the residence hall office coverage, providing appropriate space (and furnishings) for study areas in various residence halls, and changing more of the key locks to combination locks. All locks in Macomb and Kent Hall and some locks in Wilson and Macdonough have already been changed, he said.

The proposal will be submitted to the Budget and Finance Office at SUNY Central Administration for final approval.

5 Political Science Majors Take Part in Assembly Parley

Five political science majors participated in the recent New York State Intercollegiate Legislative Assembly, along with students from more than 20 public and private colleges in New York State. The Assembly, according to Dr. Thomas Konda, advisor of the Political Science Association, is intended to give the students a brief, but intensive, experience of what it's like to be a member of the Assembly. "Our students," he said, "made a very good showing in a highly competitive environment." Janice McLachlan was elected Clerk of the Assembly, and Ann Bialock was elected secretary of the Smoking Bill Committee. In addition, McLachlan and Brian Hogan's bill on campaign finance reform was voted the second best bill. Also participating from Plattsburgh were Peter Jones and Trina Hanley.

Dr. Herman Doh, who chairs the committee, explained the process. "A steering committee of 18 members was appointed last summer and began its work in September. Members of this group, and a number of other persons whose positions and expertise suggested their participation, were asked to answer three questions."

1. What has happened, of significance, during the last five years (since the Self-Study Report and the Middle States Association Report)?
2. What responses can we, should we, provide as we look to observations, recommendations, etc., in the 1982 Self-Study Report?
3. What responses can we, must we, provide as we look at the 1982 Middle States Association report?

The interim report contains sections on Goals and Outcomes, Organization and Governance, Academic Planning, The Faculty, Students and Student Life, and College-Community Relations.

Professor Elizabeth Warnock Fernea, a writer, scholar and film-maker currently associated with the Center for Middle Eastern Studies at the University of Texas at Austin, will be in residence on the campus as a Distinguished Teaching Professor from February 23 through March 6. "A Dream Deferred" is the title of her talk, which will focus on apartheid, the economy, women's concerns and other timely topics. She will be visiting Plattsburgh State as part of the "Black History Week" observance sponsored by AKEBA, the organization for the college's minority student population.

Ms. King is director of cultural affairs for the King Center, and is responsible for producing and directing artistic events to raise funds "designed to pass on those sentiments, attitudes and values that were the core of (Martin Luther King's) philosophy." It is in this manner, King has said, that she intends to "keep my father's dream alive."

Plattsburgh students will be admitted to the lecture free. Admission for all others is $2.

Lt. Gov. Stanley Lundine, in town last week for a Clinton County Democratic Party event, attended a reception in his honor at the president's home where he received a souvenir Plattsburgh State sweatshirt from Acting President Sherry H. Penney. Lundine also was presented with a Plattsburgh State cap and a framed color aerial photograph of the college campus.

Class of '87 Gift Fund Begins

More than twenty seniors met on campus recently to kick off the 1987 Senior Class Gift Fund. Director of Annual Giving Robert Hendrickson said that the student volunteers were given pledge cards and received general instructions for the conduct of this year's effort.

The program, initiated last year as a component of the Plattsburgh College Foundation's Annual Giving Program, involves personal appeals as well as two mailings to members of the senior class asking for pledges over a three-year period. Gifts to the drive are credited eventually to the Annual Alumni Fund. Hendrickson said that the personal call phase of the current campaign will continue until March 6. Seniors who make a pledge in 1987 will have their first pledge payment due in 1988. This delayed approach, Hendrickson said, permits recent graduates to develop a measure of economic stability before beginning to fulfill their pledge commitment.

The 1986 Senior Class Gift Fund campaign resulted in 73 pledges totaling $4,315 for the years 1987-89 — an average pledge of $59 over the period. Goals for the 1987 drive include improved participation and a pledge mark of $5,000.

Hockey Cardinals Set New ECAC Mark; Cagers' Playoff Hopes Alive

The Plattsburgh State hockey team rolled to its 21st and 22nd victories in-a-row last week to establish an ECAC East/West record for consecutive wins in a season. The record was set on Wednesday in the Cardinals' 8-4 triumph over Potsdam State and embellished two days later in a 12-2 drubbing of Cortland State. Plattsburgh closed out the regular season with a sparkling 26-5 mark and a 12-0 log in SUNYAC. The Cardinals will host the third annual SUNYAC Ice Hockey Championship tournament which gets underway on Friday at 4:30 p.m. Potsdam, Geneseo and Oswego complete the field. The tournament championship will be decided Saturday in a contest scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Field House.

Doug Riley's men's basketball team rolled to three impressive wins to run its record to 14-6 on the season. Last Tuesday, in their home finale, the Cardinals buried Clarkson 87-61. John Ramsey led the way with 26 points while Holman Harley added 21 points and 11 assists. Plattsburgh routed Skidmore 97-59 on Friday, and then scored a come-from-behind 61-55 win over conference foe Oneonta State on Saturday. The Cards can gain a spot in the SUNYAC playoffs with victories over Albany State and New Paltz, respectively.

Sophomore center T. J. Cornwright scored 13 points and grabbed nine rebounds to lead the women's basketball team to a 52-41 victory over Oneonta State in a key SUNYAC game. The 13-7 Cardinals split a pair of non-conference games earlier in the week, losing to Clarkson 78-62 and drubbing Skidmore 80-55. Donna Dixon scored 19 against Clarkson and Jill Provost scored 20 points and garnered 10 rebounds in the win over Skidmore.

Presidential Candidates' Interview Schedules Firm

The itinerary has been established for the visits to campus of the four finalists for the position as president of SUNY Plattsburgh.

College Council and Search Committee Chair Robert M. Garrow said that Dr. Richard D. Breslin (erroneously identified as Charles D. Breslin in last week's issue), president of the University of Charleston (WV) since 1984, will be the first to interview here. Breslin will visit Plattsburgh Wednesday and Thursday, March 11 and 12.

The itinerary for the other three: Dr. Charles O. Warren, provost and vice president for academic affairs at SUNY Cortland since 1982, will be on campus on Monday and Tuesday, March 23-24; Dr. Richard S. Meyers, president of Western Oregon State College since 1983, will be here Wednesday and Thursday, March 25-26; and Dr. Jerome H. Supple, vice president for academic affairs at Plattsburgh State since 1978, will interview on Monday and Tuesday, March 30-31.

Garrow released the schedule (printed below) each presidential candidate will follow while on campus. "It appears demanding," commented Garrow, "but it has been shared with each of the finalists and each has expressed enthusiasm and excitement in relation to interviewing for the position." The successful candidate will succeed Dr. Joseph C. Burke, president of Plattsburgh State from 1974 - 86, who left the position last summer to assume the position as provost of SUNY.

Once the on-campus interviews with all four candidates have been completed, the search process will continue in April with members of search committee sub-groups visiting the campuses where the finalists are employed. Prior to May 1, the search committee may recommend as many as three candidates to the College Council. If the Council deems one to be acceptable, it would recommend that person to the University Chancellor and its Board of Trustees.

Shipman Assumes Second Term as College Foundation President

Curtis E. Shipman, president of the Keeseville National Bank, was re-elected president of the Plattsburgh College Foundation recently during the organizational meeting of the Board of Directors. This will be Shipman's second term as president. He has also served four years as vice president and four years as chair of the Annual Giving Campaign.

Harry E. Mowry, who recently retired as vice president and general manager of Harris Graphics, Inc. was re-elected to a second term as first vice president. Mowry, a member of the College Council since 1980, has been a member of the Board of Directors for the past six years, and a leader of its Business/Corporate drive. He chaired the Foundation's successful overall Annual Giving campaign in 1986.

Clifford P. Calongne, vice president of operations for Northern Insuring Agency, Inc. was re-elected to a second term in the post of second vice president. Calongne, a member of the Board of Directors for four years, co-chaired the Business/Corporate Campaign with Mowry for the past five years.

Re-elected as secretary and treasurer, respectively, were Olive M. Flynt, who served as assistant to former President Joseph C. Burke until her retirement in 1981, and William G. Woltjen, the college's assistant vice president for finance.

Named to the Executive Committee of the Foundation were Elizabeth Kelley, Calongne, Mowry, Shipman, and Acting SUNY Plattsburgh President Sherry H. Penney.

In other business, the Board of Directors:

- Re-appointed Donald L. Garrant to serve as executive director of the Foundation;
- Re-appointed James E. Keable as legal counsel;
- Appointed Calongne as chairman of the Annual Giving Campaign;
- Appointed Clyde A. Lewis as chairman of the Planned Giving Committee;
- Appointed Roger Forrence as chairman of the Investment Committee.

plan is designed to have a two-fold purpose: first, to provide an opportunity for internal career advancement for the college's professional employees, and, second, to support and enhance the college's commitment to affirmative action and equal opportunity employment.

Under the new procedure, when a vacancy occurs in a covered position (vacant professional position as defined in the Policies of the Board of Trustees of SUNY at the level of PR-1,2 or 3), all eligible employees will be notified. If any apply within a ten-day period, they will be considered before an external search is conducted. The search committee may take one of three actions on applications from eligible internal candidates. They may find a highly qualified applicant and recommend appointment; they may find the applicant(s) qualified for consideration, but recommend off-campus recruitment; or they may find the internal applicant(s) unqualified and recommend off-campus recruitment. The procedure may also be used to fill managerial/confidential positions.

This procedure may be waived when the Director of Personnel and Affirmative Action, in consultation with the Search Committee, believes an outside search is necessary to meet the college's affirmative action goals.

A college community labor force clears packed ice and snow from the heavy pedestrian traffic corner of Beekman and Broad Streets on the campus perimeter. An activity organized by the College Community Relations Board, specific groups involved in the project included Alpha Chi Rho fraternity, the Society for the Advancement of Management and Alpha Phi Omega, the new service-oriented fraternity on campus.

Marketing Class Survey Saves $50,000+ for Clinton County

Students in an advanced marketing class have recently completed a survey on commercial air service marketing that has saved Clinton County more than $50,000.

The students, in a fall semester class taught by Dr. Nancy Church of the School of Business and Economics, prepared a survey instrument and contacted, by telephone, a total of 221 local businesses, chosen at random from the yellow pages of the local telephone directory. Twelve individuals representing major corporations or involved with businesses having a potential major impact on air services were interviewed in depth in person. The results were recently presented by William Connor, then manager of the airport, to members of the Clinton County Legislature. Connor reported that a survey of this scope and magnitude would have cost the county in excess of $50,000 had it been conducted by a private consulting agency.

The survey showed that only 50% of those businesses requiring air travel used the Clinton County airport. The airport received high marks for friendly service and flight safety, but was criticized for high prices, poor connections, lack of direct flights, small planes and airport, and inconvenient schedules.

Connor said, "We owe a tremendous debt of gratitude to Dr. Nancy Church, her students, and Plattsburgh State. . . . Although this marketing research project is only a first step, it is an enormous first step and should prove to be of almost incalculable benefit."

Three photographs by Robin Brown are featured in the 1986 Annual Report of the SUNY Research Foundation. The photos show Drs. Donald Bogucki and Gerhard Gruendling taking seismic readings to compile bedrock data; several students talking with former Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau at a recent U.S.-Canada Business Conference sponsored by the Center for the Study of Canada; and Dr. Roger Hamernik with two of his associates working in the college's Auditory Research Laboratory. . . Dr. Jacquelyn Connelly, clinical psychologist in the Psychological Services Center, presented a paper recently on "An Analysis of Therapeutic Work Behavior for Selection and Composition in Group Psychotherapy" at the American Group Psychotherapy Association Conference in New Orleans, LA. . . Dr. Helen Deresky, associate professor in the School of Business and Economics, is the co-author of "The Canadian MBA Student's Priority for Work Outcomes and Rewards: Gender Effects and Comparisons with Selected Commonwealth MBA Samples," a paper that has been accepted for publication at the Second Biennial International Conference of the Eastern Academy of Management to be held in Greece in June. . . Robert D. Fuller, assistant professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is the principal author of "Processes Regulating Sulphate Flux After Whole-tree Harvesting," an article that will appear in an upcoming issue of the international journal Nature. The article describes an investigation in which forest clearcutting and its effects on soil and streamwater acidification was used as an analog for the effects of acid rain on forest ecosystems. Another article by Fuller, "A Kinetic Model of Sulfur Transformations in Forested Spodosols," was published in a recent issue of Biogeochemistry. It deals with biological and chemical transformations of sulfur in soils of the Northeast affecting the transfer of rainfall acidity to lakes and streams.

Hirsch Chairs Emeriti Campaign

An effort to enlist the support of faculty and staff emeriti for the 1987 Annual Giving program of the Plattsburgh College Foundation is being chaired by Dr. Hans Hirsch, retired professor of history and a member of the Foundation Corporation.

The special campaign, initiated as an adjunct to the 1987 Faculty/Staff Drive which is currently underway, is designed to increase participation among former faculty in Foundation fundraising activities as well as to keep them better informed about current campus programs. Although many former faculty and staff still reside in the Plattsburgh area, an increasing number now live in Florida or other Sun Belt states.

Dr. Hirsch, who served as chairperson of the division of Social Sciences during his 26 years at Plattsburgh State, recently wrote personal letters to seventy-five of his former colleagues. The letters ask for their support and are accompanied by campus publications such as "Inside Plattsburgh" and the latest college viewbook as means to help bring them up-to-date on campus activities. A second letter to faculty/staff emeriti is planned for early summer.

In addition to chairing the Faculty/Staff Emeriti project, Dr. Hirsch is currently serving on the Convocation Sub-committee of the College's Centennial Planning Committee and is a member of the College Art Exhibition Committee, which he founded in 1952.

Hockey Cards Capture SUNY Crown; Gain ECAC First-round Bye

Led by the MVP performance of goaltender Craig Barnett, the Plattsburgh State Cardinals defeated Oswego State, 4-2, Saturday night to win the SUNYAC ice hockey championship. Plattsburgh teams have taken the conference crown twice in its three-year history. The sophomore netminder Barnett turned back 37 Oswego shots to go along with his 38-save performance in the Card's 8-1 win over Potsdam State in Friday's semi-finals. Joining Barnett on the all-tournament team were Joey Ferras, who scored twice against Potsdam, Mark LeDonne and freshman Dave Doucette. Oswego's Tom McFall and Mike Snell were also named to the team. The victory enabled Plattsburgh to qualify for the NCAA quarterfinals and established a school record for victories in a single season, 28.

Holman Harley scored 27 points and John Ramsey added 22 and 18 rebounds to pace Plattsburgh to an important 94-80 win over New Paltz State. Rudy Outlaw and Marty Safford added 19 and 16 markers, respectively. The 15-7 Cardinals await word as to what post-season tournament they will be playing.

Arts & Science Leave Reports Reflect Diversity of Activity

Several members of the Arts and Science faculty have filed reports on their 1985-86 sabbatical leaves, according to Dean Houngh Liu, who added, "They undertook a wide range of professional activities." The eleven faculty members who have completed their reports are:

- Dr. Bruce Butterfield, who travelled extensively while studying Canadian and European literature. Butterfield published one book review and did significant work on three perspective articles on Canadian writers.

College and Community Bid to Host NCAA Hockey Championships

SUNY Plattsburgh, with support from the City of Plattsburgh, Clinton County and the region's Chamber of Commerce, has submitted a formal bid to host the 1987 NCAA Division III national championship tournament scheduled for the weekend of March 20-21.

For the bid to be successful, the Cardinal hockey team will have to be successful in the eight-team NCAA quarter-final round to be held on March 13-14 at sites yet to be determined. The Cardinals received an automatic bid to the NCAA tourney by capturing the SUNY Athletic Conference championship last weekend.

In her appeal to the NCAA Site Selection Committee, Acting President Sherry H. Penney noted that the Plattsburgh team will have to advance to the "final four" to qualify as host institution for the finals. She added, however, that "We are optimistic this will happen — for the third consecutive year — since our Cardinals, 28-5 overall and 23-1 against ECAC opposition with a record-setting 23 straight wins versus Division III teams, are going into post-season play ranked No. 1 in the nation."

The Plattsburgh bid focuses also on attendance figures at hockey games at a first-rate college Field House facility, "tremendous" support for the Cardinals in the local community, accessibility of the community by air, rail and ground transportation, and SUNY Plattsburgh's "reputation for hospitality" as demonstrated in hosting the World University Winter Games in 1972 and in serving as the final training and assembly site for the 1976 U.S. Olympic Team.

The bid "package" included several pieces of college, community and county promotional literature and letters of support from Carlton E. Rennell, mayor of the City of Plattsburgh, Melvin R. "Bob" Bruno, chair of the Clinton County Legislature, and Rosilan H. Leahy, executive director of the Plattsburgh and Clinton County Chamber of Commerce. The letters echo the college's proposal, point to the area's excellent lodging and dining establishments and promise community assistance in a supporting role.

Candidates for President Agree to Address All-College Groups

The finalists for the position as president of SUNY Plattsburgh have agreed to give brief remarks relative to their candidacy during interview sessions before major campus constituencies.

College Council and Presidential Search Committee Chair Robert M. Garrow reported that each of the candidates has agreed to make "introductory" presentations of between five and ten minutes at their scheduled meetings for faculty, professionals and staff and for the student government leadership and student body. The former constituency will meet the candidates at 4 p.m. on the first day of their visit, and the latter at 8:30 p.m., also on the first day.

Abbreviated versions of their curriculum vitae are available in the president's office and have been distributed to the offices of the academic deans. The curriculum vitae of the finalists may be reviewed in the Office of the President (the person to contact is Beverly Forster, assistant to the president and secretary to the search committee).

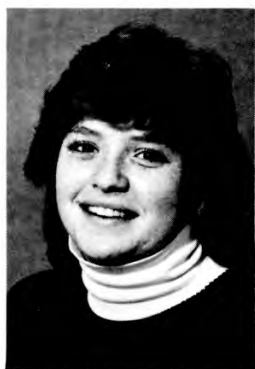

The first finalist to interview, Dr. Richard D.

Breslin, president of the University of Charleston, WV, will interview here on March 11-12. Dr. Charles O. Warren, provost and vice president for academic affairs at SUNY Cortland, will be here on March 23-24; Dr. Richard S. Meyers, president of Western Oregon State College, on March 25-26; and Dr. Jerome H. Supple, vice president for academic affairs on this campus, on March 30-31.

Garrow said the search committee will convene again on April 9 to select persons who will visit the campuses of the finalists. The timetable calls for the committee to recommend at least two candidates to the Council by April 30. At that point, Garrow said, he will convene a special meeting of the Council, whose responsibility it is to recommend a candidate to the University Chancellor and SUNY's Board of Trustees.

"The Trustees meet in May on the 26th and 27th," commented Garrow. "It is conceivable that the identity of SUNY Plattsburgh's next president could be announced on the 27th."

McLaughlin Named ODK Leader of the Year in Province One

Ann A. McLaughlin, a senior business management major from Goshen has become the fourth SUNY Plattsburgh student in six years to be named Province I Leader-of-the-Year by Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society. McLaughlin won the award over five other students from within the 22-circle province. She will now compete for the national Leader-of-the-Year title.

McLaughlin, named ODK "Sophomore of the Year" in 1985, maintains a 3.52 gpa. She has been president of Phi Eta Sigma, the national freshman honor society, and vice president of ODK. Among other activities, McLaughlin has been an SA Senator, chair of the SA Legislative Review Board, chief justice of the SA court, an orientation leader, a resident assistant, an EOP tutor, a peer recruiter and a campus tour guide. She is currently a member of the Presidential Search Committee.

Other SUNY Plattsburgh students who won the Province I Leader-of-the-Year award were Roger Sadler, James DeLuca, and Sue Coughlin.

Dr. Moore's 'K-Factor' Theory Is Focus of Sigma Xi Lecture

Dr. Richard Moore, professor of biological sciences, will discuss "High Blood Pressure: Why the K Factor and Not Drugs is the Answer" as the next featured Sigma Xi lecturer. Moore will make his presentation at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, March 11 in Yokum Lecture Hall 208.

Moore, co-author of the recently published The K Factor, says, "People who have hypertension have greatly increased chance of death due to strokes, kidney disease, and heart disease." But, he adds, "lowering blood pressure to normal does not decrease the rate of death. The good news is that restoring a normal dietary K (potassium) factor has been shown to not only lower blood pressure, but also decrease the risk of death in those with this condition. We now know not only how to cure high blood pressure, but also how to prevent it in those with a family history of this problem."

Moore's lecture is free and open to the campus and community.

Work continues on the glass-enclosed roof covering the Winkler Sculpture Courtyard adjacent to the college's art gallery in the Myers Fine Arts Building. Scheduled for completion in the fall, the courtyard will house several pieces of sculpture created by the internationally renowned artist Nina Winkler, who, with her husband, George, recently established a $390,000 trust fund with the College Foundation.

Special Meeting Thursday To Probe Budget Woes, Promote Action Plan to Gain Legislative Reversal

A special meeting has been called for 4 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) in room 200 of Yokum Hall to marshal the support of the campus community behind a campaign urging legislative reversal of damaging features in the 1987-88 Executive Budget proposed for SUNY Plattsburgh.

Acting President Sherry H. Penney has specifically requested deans, center directors, department chairpersons and Student Association leaders to attend the meeting, but she is hoping for a large turnout of faculty, staff and students "willing to help in an effort designed to preserve academic quality and enhance programs and services."

Penney said she will explain the budget situation and answer questions from the audience. Some of the budget items that "could be devastating" to SUNY Plattsburgh if left unchanged include:

- Mandated savings of $381,000, which translates to a potential loss of 19 positions or a forced reduction of 11.6 percent in the budget for equipment, supplies and temporary service.
- Elimination of several hundred-thousand dollars in funds for supplies and expenses and for utilities.
- Elimination of 17 new positions requested for this campus and approved by the SUNY Trustees.
- Elimination of $197,000 in support of the college's Value-Added Program.

At the conclusion of her presentation, Penney will distribute sample letters appealing for restoration of funds along with names, addresses and telephone numbers of legislative leaders in positions of influence. "We will ask faculty, staff and students to

Toni Bloom Endowment Surpasses $25,000 Plateau

The endowment fund created in memory of Toni Bloom, who was killed in an accident in January, has, as of March 8, received $25,010 in contributions.

Plattsburgh College Foundation President Curtis E. Shipman commented, "The outpouring of support from Toni's family and friends, both at home and on campus, has been unbelievable. We have never seen an endowment fund of this nature generate such interest nor grow so quickly. It is a tremendous tribute to Toni. We hope it offers some measure of comfort to her family to know that so many people thought so highly of her."

While the largest individual contributions to the fund have come from members of Bloom's family, campus efforts have swelled the total as well. The members of Alpha Chi Rho coordinated a Fast Day during which more than 1400 students gave up one breakfast meal. As a result of the Fast Day, the Marriott Corporation contributed $1,464 to the fund.

College Auxiliary Services added a donation of $1,000 to the endowment fund. Members of Theta Alpha Lambda, Pi Alpha Nu, Alpha Kappa Phi,

Five Faculty Receive SUNY Awards for Research Improvement

Five faculty members have been awarded funds through the SUNY Research Improvement Program. Each award must be matched by at least an equal amount from external sources.

Dr. Mark Cohen, professor of anthropology, has been awarded $8,137 for the purchase of a vehicle for use in connection with his continuing anthropological investigations of the health status of Mayan populations. Acting SUNY Chancellor Jerome Komisar said, "This is the first time we have provided funds for the purchase of a vehicle through this program, but the excellence and importance of (Cohen's) work justifies the somewhat unusual nature of (the) request."

Dr. Thomas Wolosz, assistant professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, was awarded $23,973 for the purchase of a research microscope and cold cathode luminescence system to be used in connection with his research on fossil coral and the petrology of ancient reef rocks.

Dr. Daniel Vogt, assistant professor of biology, and Drs. Kenneth Adams and Robert Fuller, assistant professors in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, received $8,498 to purchase a total carbon call or write and to state the case or pattern their own letters after the situation as we have described it," said Penney. "We'll also hand out a list of state senate and assembly people who can do the most to help, and ask that they be contacted." In addition to local legislators, Senator Ronald B. Stafford and Assemblyman Chris Ortloff, the list includes the majority and minority leaders of the Senate, the speaker and minority leader of the Assembly, the chairpersons of the Higher Education Committee in both legislative bodies, the chairperson of the Senate Finance Committee and the chairperson of the Assembly Ways & Means Committee.

Acting President Penney pointed out that the letter-staff and students also have made individual contributions.

Income generated from the investment of the endowment fund will provide scholarships recognizing and encouraging leadership in campus activities among undergraduate students. The Toni C. Bloom Scholarship Award will be granted to students entering their junior or senior year, who are majoring in the humanities and have a grade point average of 2.7 or above.

Preference will be given to undergraduate students who emulate Toni's high degree of involvement in and dedication to the college community. Consideration for the award will be based on the extent and quality of involvement in three of the following six areas: service to the college; service to the Student writing campaign has already begun. She has written to the College Council, the Board of Directors of the Plattsburgh College Foundation and the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association to encourage similar activity. Moreover, 50 additional alumni — respondents to a survey requesting volunteers to help with legislative relations — have been asked to join the campaign.

"Our campus is not alone in this effort," remarked Penney. "Acting Chancellor Jerome Komisar has urged all affected SUNY units to adopt similar measures. Our collective future may be tied to how well the university community responds to the challenge. I'm optimistic that our people will do their part."

Association; involvement in journalism/speech/mass media; campus employment; involvement in the creative and performing arts; and service to the community.

The Toni C. Bloom Scholarship recipients will be selected by a committee composed of individuals in the following offices: director of Campus Life, chair; associate director of Campus Life; president of the Student Association; president of the R.A. Association; one faculty member designated by the chair; and one student member designated by the S.A. president.

Contributions to the endowment fund will continue to be accepted by the Plattsburgh College Foundation.

Campus Hotline, Posting System Approved for Promotion Plan

With approval recently of the SUNY Plattsburgh professional promotion plan, an agreement has been reached relative to communicating vacancies in professional positions covered by the plan.

The college's Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action reports that since the objective of the plan is to keep professional employees aware of opportunities, three separate, broadbased methods will be introduced. First, and perhaps most innovative, is a telephone hotline. By dialing JOBS or 564-5627, a pre-recorded message will provide the caller with a listing of all current vacancies on the SUNY Plattsburgh campus.

Additionally, listings will continue to appear in this publication and they will be posted prominently on "official" bulletin boards located throughout the campus. For those unfamiliar with the location of the bulletin boards, they are hung in the following areas: Kehoe Administration Building, 1st, 6th and 9th floors; Hawkins Hall (106-107); Service Building; Memorial Hall; Myers Fine Arts Building (220); Hudson Hall (101); Champlain Valley Hall (316); Feinberg Library (209); Redcay Hall (234); Yokum Hall (103); Beaumont Hall (211F); Ward Hall (109); Sibley Hall (400); Angell Center (106); College Infirmary; and Redcay Hall (108).

Plattsburgh's professional promotion plan is designed to provide opportunity for internal career advancement for the college's professional employees and to support and enhance its commitment to affir-

College Among Top Suppliers of USAF Officer Candidates

SUNY Plattsburgh is one of the leading suppliers in this region of U.S. Air Force officers, according to a report by members of the 3516th USAF Officer Recruiting Staff. That report, which was recently provided to the Office of Career/Life Planning and Placement, showed that within that recruiting area (which includes northern New Jersey and the eastern half of New York State), SUNY Plattsburgh ranked third in both 1985 and 1986 in the number of applications (behind SUNY Albany and RPI) for Officer Training.

In 1985, 14 Plattsburgh graduates applied. One was accepted for technical training and six for non-technical training. The acceptance rate for Plattsburgh applicants, at 57.1%, was well over the area-wide acceptance rate of 45.7%. In 1986, there were 13 applicants from the college, with one accepted for training as a navigator and two others accepted for non-technical training. The 1986 acceptance rate of 23% is identical with the area-wide rate.

Patrick Lennahan, director of the CLPP Office, said that Air Force officials had told him they were impressed with the record of the students from this college.

mative action and equal opportunity employment. Under the procedure, all eligible employees are to be notified when vacancies occur and — if they apply within a 10-day period — they are to be considered before an external search is conducted.

Psychology and Human Services Faculty Win 1987 SUNY Grants

Winners of the 1987 SUNY Faculty Grants for the Improvement of Undergraduate Instruction were announced this week and SUNY Plattsburgh faculty did well in the competition. Nineteen of the 120 grant applications from throughout the 64-campus system were funded and two of those awards went to this campus.

Dr. Peter Hornby and Margaret Anderson, professor and instructor of psychology respectively, received $2,950 for their project, entitled "Developing a Computer Based Laboratory for General Psychology." Dr. Jean Ostacz, assistant professor, Florence Hansen, lecturer, and Dr. Kenneth Hoeltzel, professor, all from the Center of Human Resources, were awarded $4,000 to fund their proposal, which was titled "Nutritional Counseling Practicum — SUNY Plattsburgh."

The grant program is now in its fifteenth year and is designed to encourage faculty to develop and implement innovative projects which lead to the direct improvement of undergraduate instruction. Emphasis is placed on proposals which are innovative in methodology and substance and projects with results which can be repeated and used by other SUNY faculty are favored.

CAS Elects Roark as President

Dr. Eldridge W. Roark Jr., vice president for student affairs has been re-elected president of the corporation of College Auxiliary Services. The election of officers and members of the CAS executive committee took place at the annual meeting of the corporation on February 23.

Tom Schaller, president of the Student Association, was elected vice president of the corporation, and Cheryl Hogle, associate director of campus life, was elected secretary. John Homburger, controller, will serve as treasurer as temporary replacement for William Woltjen, assistant vice president for finance, who is on leave from the college.

Elected to the executive committee were Dr. Marilyn Chase, director of the Center for Human Resources, Dr. Ann Hastings, director of Cooperative Education, Ed Reilly, a junior accounting major from Roslyn Heights, Jason Mehler, a senior accounting major from New Rochelle, and Matt Ros, a junior business major from Schenectady.

Cards Wins ECAC Title; Women's Track Team 2nd in SUNYAC

Riding the stellar goaltending of Craig Barnett, the Plattsburgh Cardinals defeated Canisius and Oswego to win the ECAC West Championship for the first time since the 1981-82 season. Barnett stopped 34 shots in the Card's 5-2 victory over Oswego in the championship game and 33 in Wednesday's 9-4 semi-final rout of Canisius.

Freshman Dean Reynolds scored a pair of goals Saturday to pace the attack for the 30-5 Cardinals, who defeated the Great Lakers for the fifth time this season.

Steve Hoar's icers begin quest of a national title when they host Norwich University this weekend in a two-game quarterfinals series.

Doug Riley's basketball team advanced to the semi-final round of the ECAC Upstate New York tournament, upending Oneonta State 71-67. Senior John Ramsey scored 24 points and Holman Harley added 21. Dave Campbell and Rudy Outlaw nailed key free throws down the stretch to seal the victory. Plattsburgh will face Albany State this evening on the road in the semi-final contest.

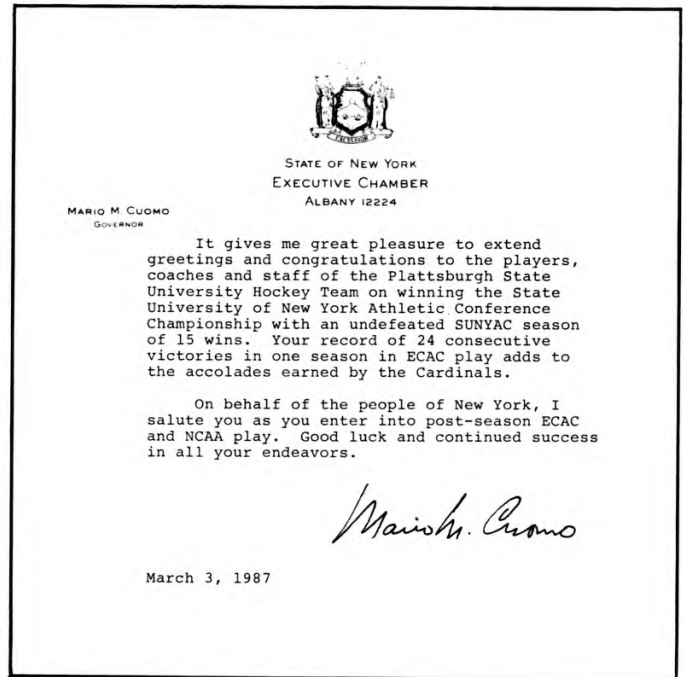

Teacher Education Center Has Role in Mentor-Intern Project

The college's Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services is playing a pivotal role in a collaborative "Mentor-Teacher Intern Project" that has caught the attention of the North Country educational community.

Implemented last fall as one of 24 pilot programs in New York funded by the State Education Department, the project is a cooperative effort involving the Center, the North Country Teacher Resource Center (NCTRC) and the New York State United Teachers. Its goal is to improve the professional competency of the first-year teacher (intern) through increased support and guidance provided by experienced mentor-teachers. The first-year teachers receive support and guidance from mentor-teachers teaching the same subject in the same building during "the difficult transition from student teacher to beginning teacher." Both intern and mentor receive specialized training and time release from classroom instruction to test the program.

Center Director Dr. Michael Wolfe described the college's role as "innovative." He said that in addition to utilizing the facilities and resources of NCTAC in Sibley Hall, the project relies on SUNY Plattsburgh mentors and evaluators. The latter include Wolfe, Dr. Nicholas Stupiansky, assistant professor of education, Dr. Mary Roark, assistant professor in the Center for Human Resources, and others from the college faculty and staff.

The project has been featured in recent issues of the Plattsburgh City School District newsletter and "Random Access," the NCTAC newsletter.

Brett Hull's women's track team came within one point of winning the SUNYAC indoor track and field championships at Cortland State. The University of Buffalo nipped the Cardinals 97-96 to win the meet. Individual winners for Plattsburgh included Laurine Rohl in the 55-meter hurdles, Sue Hutchins in the 400-meter dash, and Kathy Kane in the 1500-meter run. Rohl finished second in the long jump while Hutchins and Kane turned in second place efforts in the 300-meter dash and the 800-meter run, respectively.

The men's track team made its best showing at the SUNYAC meet by taking home fifth place behind team champion Fredonia State. Adam McNally won the 55-meter hurdles in 7.93 seconds and senior Glenn Dow set a Cortland State fieldhouse record by winning the 800-meter run in 1:56.10. Bill Kinahan finished second in the 400-meter dash in 51.78 seconds.

Library Invites Campus to Try Computerized Reference System

The Feinberg Library has a new automated reference system on trial for the next two months, and faculty, staff and students are invited to test it. The system, called "Infotrac," uses computer access to a database stored on videodisc. The database includes nearly half a million references drawn from about 900 business, technical and general interest publications, including references from The New York Times and The Wall Street Journal.

Dennis Kimmage, head of reference at the Feinberg Library, said that the system is very simple to operate and that users can search the database very quickly, then print out the citations they desire. The two units are located in the reference room.

Hockey Cards Win College's 1st-Ever National Title

The Plattsburgh State hockey team completed a storybook season by defeating Oswego State 8-3 Saturday night at the Plattsburgh State Ronald B. Stafford Ice Arena to capture the NCAA Division III national title.

The win — the Cardinals' 33rd in 39 outings in 1986-87 — gave Plattsburgh a six-game sweep of the Great Lakers this season. It also marked the first national championship for a Plattsburgh team in the college's history. Nearly 8,000 Cardinal fans jammed Stafford Arena to witness Friday's semi-finals and Saturday's consolation and championship games.

Senior tri-captain Dave Piromalli made his final appearance in a Plattsburgh uniform a memorable one as he blasted four goals past Oswego netminder Paul Mueller. The Cardinals' all-time leading scorer was named to the all-tournament team.

Coach Steve Hoar's icers earned a berth in the championship game with a hard fought 7-4 win over defending champion Bemidji State. Friday's victory was sweet revenge for the Cardinals, who lost to the Beavers in Bemidji in last season's championship game as well as in triple overtime in the 1985 semi-finals.

Cardinal hockey team celebrates its national championship triumph over arch-rival Oswego State.

In the championship tilt, Plattsburgh forged a 1-0 first period lead on a Piromalli powerplay goal. Oswego knotted the game 1:38 into the second period

Field House Ice Arena Named for Senator Ronald B. Stafford

The Field House ice arena at the college will be named in honor of New York State Senator Ronald B. Stafford (R-Plattsburgh).

College Council Chair Robert M. Garrow announces Council decision to name Field House ice arena in honor of State Senator Ronald B. Stafford.

That announcement was made Friday evening at the arena by Robert M. Garrow, Plattsburgh College Council chair, before a capacity crowd of 3,700-plus on hand at the Field House complex to witness the Plattsburgh State vs. Bemidji (Minn.) State NCAA championship tournament semi-final game. Stafford, an ardent fan of Plattsburgh hockey, could not be present to acknowledge the honor but was notified earlier that day it was forthcoming.

A recommendation to designate the Field House facility the "Ronald B. Stafford Ice Arena" has been approved by consensus of the SUNY Plattsburgh College Council, but will be acted upon officially at that body's April 9 meeting. The Council is empowered to name spaces within buildings without authorization from the University's Board of Trustees. Formal dedication will take place at a later date.

Garrow's disclosure came during pre-game ceremonies at center ice. "Many in this building are acquainted with Senator Stafford, if not personally at least by reputation," said Garrow. "What most may not know is that this (Field House) facility may not have been erected if Ron Stafford had not worked extremely hard — 15 years ago — to gain the release of state funds for its construction.

"He was convinced the college and the people of but Jean Simon Bibeau poked his own rebound past Mueller just 12 seconds later to give the Cards a lead they would never relinquish.

Piromalli's second goal of the game stretched the margin to 5-1 late in the period, but Dave Fentress closed it to three at the 17:45 mark.

Sophomore defenseman Chris Panek (2), NCAA Championship Tournament most valuable player, takes aim on Oswego net.

Oswego crept within two at 5:10 of the third stanza, but opportunistic Jeff Bunyon sealed the Lakers fate with a shorthanded tally with less than eight minutes left in the game. Piromalli scored the 120th and 121st goals of his brilliant career in a 15-second span late in the game to provide the final margin of victory.

Joining Piromalli on the all-tournament team were teammates Craig Barnett in goal, center Joey Ferras and defenseman Chris Panek. Panek was the tournament's most valuable player.

ECAC Names Ferras, Panek to First Team All-Star Squad

The ECAC has announced its Division III West all-star team, and two Cardinals have been named to the first team. Junior center Joey Ferras and sophomore blueliner Chris Panek were honored by coaches from around the ECAC for their outstanding play. Ferras was Plattsburgh's leading scorer this season with 38 goals and 54 assists while Panek scored 50 points and is recognized as one of the nation's best college defensemen.

the North Country badly needed this Field House," Garrow continued. "Looking around at this sell-out crowd, who could question his wisdom or far-sightedness? I consider it a very special pleasure and honor to be the first to welcome the best hockey fans in America to the SUNY Plattsburgh Ronald B. Stafford Ice Arena."

In addition to Stafford's contribution in securing funds to erect the Field House, and, later, Plattsburgh's Benjamin F. Feinberg Library, the College

Council resolution recommending the naming of the ice arena cites his career-long advocacy of higher education in the State Senate and "his abiding concern for the welfare of children and youth — for their recreational needs as well as their intellectual fulfillment and social environment."

Stafford is serving his 12th consecutive two-year term in the State Senate. A former chair of the Senate's Higher Education Committee, he currently presides over its prestigious Judiciary Committee.

Library Staff Schedules Sixth 'Fabulous Feinberg Book Sale'

Feinberg Library will hold its "Sixth Fabulous Feinberg Book Sale" on Saturday (March 28) from 12 noon to 5 p.m. As in previous years, the sale will be located in the corridor outside the Library's Special Collections section.

The Feinberg staff reports that buyers and browsers will find a wonderful selection of books at bargain prices. This year's stock includes lots of low-priced fiction, psychology, philosophy, religion, and an assortment of popular magazines including National Geographic, The New Yorker, Smithsonian, Ski and Skiing. A particularly large selection of titles on history, education, and foreign languages and literature will be offered for sale. Additionally, the event will feature a special section of fine bindings and rare books on a variety of subjects including literature and local and U.S. history.

All sale items have been received by Feinberg

Library as gifts from various donors. Library personnel say they have received a record number of such gifts during the past year. Those gift books and periodicals which either duplicate the library's current holdings or are inappropriate to the scope of its collections are added to the stock for the library's annual sale.

Proceeds from the sale are deposited in the library's book fund and are used to purchase exceptional, new library materials that the Feinberg Library would be unable to afford otherwise. Money generated from previous sales has made it possible for the library to acquire a number of expensive reference sets and to complete its holdings for several runs of periodicals.

Lobbying for Budget Relief

Acting President Sherry H. Penney with Assemblyman Edward C. Sullivan (D-Manhattan), who chairs the New York State Assembly's Committee on Higher Education. Penny met with Sullivan and with his counterpart in the state Senate, Kenneth P. LaValle (R-Selden), during a recent lobbying visit to Albany involving the acting president and other campus officials who used the occasion also to meet with SUNY Plattsburgh alumni who hold elected posts in state government or who work with state legislators. The campus delegates reported that the lobbying effort was worthwhile, saying they were received graciously and that their message was well-received. Meanwhile, the Press-Republican has taken a stand backing the college's position on the budget situation (copies of the P-R's editorial, reprinted opposite, have been sent to state legislative leaders). Also, nearly 100 North Country business leaders have been contacted and asked to write letters urging their representatives to support efforts to restore proposed cuts in SUNY's budget as a means to "continue to provide a high quality public university system for New York State."

Pacific Rim Countries Focus of Friday's Asian Symposium

Dr. Yoshi Tsurumi of Baruch College will deliver the keynote address on "Cultural Factors and International Business: U.S. and the Pacific Rim" during the opening session of the symposium scheduled for 1 - 3 p.m. in the Angell Center Ballroom. This will be followed by a discussion of "Canada's Economic Relations with the Pacific Rim" by Shumihiko Seto, director of the Japan External Trade Organization in Montreal. The concluding session of the symposium, to be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Orchard Room of the Angell Center, will focus on "Patterns of Investment and Trade Relations Between Korea, China, the Philippines and the U.S." and will feature a panel consisting of college faculty from the history department and the School of Business and Economics.

SUNY budget plan unrealistic

State legislators say there will be substantial changes made in the State University of New York budget for 1987-88 before they'll pass Gov. Mario Cuomo's proposal. We sure hope so.

If the SUNY budget were to be approved as it is now, it would put colleges like Plattsburgh State on some unsure footing. The budget concept is unworkable, from where we sit. It must be changed.

The major problem with the governor's proposal is a requirement that SUNY keep a total of 450 staff positions open and save $17 million. The mandatory savings level, required of all state agencies, is based on how much personnel turnover savings are expected.

At Plattsburgh, the requirement is neither logical nor reasonable. There's little turnover at PSUC, we're told. Under Cuomo's proposal, the local college budget would be reduced by $381,000. That's equivalent to 20 positions. And because there are only two or three positions open each year, PSUC would have to deliberately keep open the extra positions, meaning the loss of 19 jobs. The college currently has three vacancies.

We see Cuomo's plan as a devastating blow to not only the Plattsburgh campus, but to the SUNY education system, where some colleges are still reeling from debilitating budget cuts the past several years.

High quality public education has been the objective of the State University system, despite the hurdles set forth by the state bureaucracy. Meeting that objective has been a difficult task. Somehow, though, SUNY has been successful and has been able to compete with private institutions for the best students throughout the state.

SUNY is one of the best educational systems in the nation, but the quality will suffer if Cuomo is allowed to see his budget proposal to fruition. There are some who believe that the quality of the State University is already beginning to slip.

Colleges in the State University system, like Plattsburgh, shouldn't be faced with the budget hassles that yearly cloud their real task, that of teaching. There has to be another way of balancing the state budget other than sticking it to SUNY.

We hope the State Legislature finds a way.

1987 Faculty/Staff Fund Drive Enters Second Phase This Week

The 1987 Faculty/Staff campaign of the Plattsburgh College Foundation's Annual Giving program enters its second phase this week seeking renewed and increased support from previous donors and new gifts from those who did not give to the drive in 1986.

Renewals and new commitments to the campaign's payroll deduction program that were solicited in December, plus cash received as of March 20, amount to gifts and pledges totalling $11,504 from 86 donors for an average commitment of $133.77.

This year, for the first time, faculty and staff can choose between the SUNY Plattsburgh Federal Credit Union or the State of New York regular payroll system to make a payroll deduction gift to the campaign. In either case, the donor's pledge is divided into equal amounts and deducted from each bi-weekly paycheck. A signed payroll deduction card returned by April 14 would enable donors to divide their gifts into 18 payments. For example, a $100 pledge would mean a $5.56 deduction each pay period through the remainder of the calendar year.

"Of course," said Curtis Shipman, Foundation president, "our organizations will also gratefully accept checks or cash gifts in any amount in support of this year's effort."

Campus White Paper Explores Women's Concerns

A campus-wide committee established last summer to address past progress, present needs and future goals of women at SUNY Plattsburgh has issued a "White Paper" based on months of research into "areas pertinent to concerns of women on campus."

A summary of the White Paper is reprinted as a special insert with this issue of Weekly. It is the basis of an all-college, open discussion session scheduled for 3 to 6 p.m. on Friday (April 3) in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

The committee's White Paper report focuses on the progress, needs and future goals of women at SUNY Plattsburgh in terms of enrollments, scholarship and academic achievement, curriculum, athletics, staffing compensation, support services, and employment. It also identifies several areas that require the attention of the campus community and concludes with an acknowledgement that progress has been made in many areas and that "(SUNY) Plattsburgh has a commitment to improve conditions for women even further."

Acting President Sherry H. Penney congratulated the committee on its thoroughness and fairness and described its White Paper as "an important work that merits the full attention of every college employee." She urged Plattsburgh faculty, staff and students to make every effort to attend and participate in Friday's discussion session.

College and Albany's Health Sciences School Sign Agreement

A memorandum of understanding between SUNY Plattsburgh and the School of Public Health Sciences at the University at Albany has been signed, according to Dr. Houngh Liu, dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science. The agreement documents the intentions of both parties to coordinate the education of students in selected programs at both institutions, to encourage collaborative research and instruction between faculty on both campuses, and to promote collaborations between appropriate scholarly and research organizations in the Plattsburgh and Albany areas. "We expect this agreement will greatly benefit our students, our faculty, and our institutions," Liu said.

The agreement includes, among others, the following items:

- Plattsburgh students completing a baccalaureate program in biology, chemistry, environmental sciences, psychology or sociology with a minor in gerontology, or a master of arts degree in biology or chemistry, will be considered for admission for graduate studies at the School of Public Health.
- Both institutions will work toward the development of a program whereby qualified students who have completed a designated course of study for at least three years will be considered for graduate studies at Albany.
- Plattsburgh will provide research supervision and facilities for selected graduate students from Albany.
- Albany will promote summer research programs for selected undergraduates and faculty from Plattsburgh.

- Collaborative research among faculty members from both campuses will be encouraged.
- Both parties will pursue the development of an organization that will promote regional cooperation between educational, research and scholarly institutions in the Albany and Plattsburgh areas.

Geriatrics/Gerontology Parley Focuses on Family Care Giving

The college's Institute for the Study of Geriatrics and Gerontology will offer a two-part "Symposium on Family Caregiving" on campus during the next two weeks. Dr. Eleanor Stoller, professor of sociology, commented, "Family members, particularly wives and adult daughters, are the major providers of long-term care for frail older persons. This symposium reviews current research on informal support of impaired elderly and the implications of this research for care-givers and other family members."

The first session, scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on April 7 in the Angell Center Conference Room, will feature a discussion by Stoller on "Women in the Middle: Family Caregivers of Frail Elderly."

Dr. Jane Lewis, Visiting Distinguished Professor from the London School of Economics, will discuss "Daughters Looking After Their Mothers" during the second session, which will be held at 4:15 p.m. on April 14, in the Cardinal Lounge.

Both sessions are open to the campus and community. For further information, contact Stoller at 564-3301.

Ten Students in Washington for OAS Model Assembly Event

Ten students who are majoring or minoring in Latin American studies (LAS) are in Washington, D.C. this week representing El Salvador at the Organization of American States Model Assembly.

The 10 have been preparing for participation in the OAS Model through the LAS program's junior-level senior seminar and field study course taught by Dr. Peter Gore, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science. Currently the director of a research project on land reform in El Salvador for USAID, Gore has been a valuable resource person for the delegation.

The students began their preparation with a general study of El Salvador, drawing upon the expertise of various faculty in the LAS program. They then engaged in extensive primary research into the agenda issues that would be debated in the five committees of the Model in which they would be working, carefully determining the position of the El Salvadoran government on those issues.

As part of the second stage of preparation, the students went to Ottawa, where they were given briefing sessions by the embassies of El Salvador and Guatemala, and by the Canadian Department of External Affairs. For the past few weeks, they have been preparing resolutions for the Model's consideration. One concerns the refugee question, an issue with which they have had first-hand experience the past two months in the North Country and in Canada.

A distinctive feature of the Plattsburgh State delegation's participation in the OAS Model is its linkage with the college's alumni in the Washington, D.C. area. Alumni families have opened their homes to the students for the entire week, assisting with meals and transportation when convenient or necessary. The students, in turn, will host their alumni families at the Model's gala reception.

In addition to Gore, who serves as the delegation's faculty advisor, the students are being accompanied by Dr. Stuart Voss, coordinator of the LAS Program, who has handled all logistical arrangements. Voss is also serving as the Model's faculty advisor for the Committee for budget and administration.

"Commuting to the Model each day, staying with families, our students have a unique opportunity to see how people live and work in the nation's capital," commented Voss. "One alumna, a lawyer at the Equal Opportunity Employment Commission, has volunteered to discuss career opportunities in Washington with the students over lunch."

Mexican Sociologist Alonso Here as Distinguished Visiting Prof.

Dr. Jose Antonio Alonso, a sociologist on the social science faculty of the National Autonomous University of Mexico, has begun a two-week Distinguished Visiting Professorship on campus, sponsored by the Latin American Studies Program.

During his tenure at Mexico's largest and leading institution of higher education, Alonso has focused his research on the changing role of women in the workforce in Mexico and in several Central American countries. He has also published works on the economic impact of urban marginalization and on diplomatic aspects surrounding the Central American conflict.

Alonso is leading discussion sessions in various classes on campus, including those on U.S. Foreign Policy and Urban Life in North America. Tomorrow, he will deliver the first of two college-wide lectures, "Working Women and Crisis in Latin America," at the Women's Studies Forum. His second lecture, "Central America: Before and After Irangate," will be held in the Angell Center Ballroom next Wednesday.

The major portion of Prof. Alonso's second week on campus will be devoted to teaching a one-credit mini-course on the changing role of women in the Latin American economy.

For further information about scheduled events or to arrange opportunities for informal discussion with Prof. Alonso (time permitting), individuals are urged to contact Prof. Stuart Voss, LAS Coordinator, at 564-2395 or 563-3057.

Wildlife Photographer Alsop Next Up as Sigma Xi Lecturer

Dr. Fred J. Alsop, III, nationally renowned wildlife photographer and chairman of the biological sciences department at East Tennessee State University, will present a lecture and slide show entitled "Trekking with a Wildlife Photographer" at 8 p.m. on Friday, April 10 in Yokum Hall Room 208 on the SUNY Plattsburgh campus.

Alsop will discuss outdoor photography and his philosophy of taking photographs of wildlife. His topics will include his techniques, photographing from blinds, and various kinds of cameras and lenses. Alsop will also show slides of his work in areas ranging from the Eastern United States to the Arctic Circle to the Galapagos Islands and Eastern Africa.

Alsop has more than 20 years experience as an ornithologist and has published over 100 notes and articles on birds in scientific journals. His color photographs of birds appear regularly in such national publications as "Audubon," "Natural History," "National Geographic," and "National Wildlife."

His lecture is co-sponsored by the Sigma Xi Club, College Auxiliary Services, and the Northern Adirondack Audubon Society. It is free and open to the campus and community.

EDTAC Launches Operation of Venture Capital Network

Venture Capital Network of New York, Inc., (VCN of NY), a new, not-for-profit economic development corporation which has been a project of the college's Economic Development and Technical Assistance Center for more than a year, officially begins operation this week. VCN of NY is designed to bring together private investors and business entrepreneurs and operates somewhat like a "dating service" to help make those connections. EDTAC, through the SUNY Research Foundation, has a management services contract to operate the VCN service.

VCN President David Ackerman said, "VCN of NY has the ability and the willingness to matchmake small and large deals — from $10,000 to $1,000,000 — from any type of business in any stage of development."

Additional support for the project came from Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation, the Adirondack North Country Association, and the law firm of Hawkins, Delafield and Wood.

Information about the new service, which is now available to the business community of northern New York, is available at VCN of NY, PO Box 248, Lake Placid (518-564-3227).

Thursday's Career Night Event Attracts Broad Recruiter Field

As of last week, 89 representatives from 46 organizations have indicated they would attend the program, which emphasizes information exchange and provides the opportunity for students to broaden their perspectives on career options.

On the following day, at least 19 of the organizations participating in Career Night will hold recruitment interviews for seniors. Appointments may be made through the CLPP Office.

British Scholar, Author Lewis to Teach, Lecture on Campus

Dr. Jane Lewis of the Department of Social Science and Administration of the London School of Economics will be in residence as a Distinguished Visiting Professor on campus from April 6 - 17. Lewis is the author of Women in England, 1870-1950: Sexual Divisions and Social Changes (1984); The Politics of Motherhood: Child and Maternal Welfare in England 1900-1939 (1980) and What Price Community Medicine (1986). She is also the editor of Women's Welfare/Women's Rights (1983) and Labour and Love: Women's Experience of Home and Family (1986). She is now preparing manuscripts on two topics, "Community Medicine in Ontario, Quebec and England, 1970-85"; and "Looking After Mum: the experiences of daughters caring for elderly mothers." Lewis has also written several articles on history, feminism and public policy in England and Canada.

In addition to meeting with classes in history, sociology, anthropology, human resources and women's studies, Lewis will give five public lectures during her stay on campus (please see calendar for details). Lewis's office will be room 333 of the Feinberg Library (ext. 5306). Copies of her books are available in the reserve room under her name and in the college bookstore.

20 Report on Independent Study at Hudson Research Conference

Twenty students from nine colleges and universities presented reports on their independent research projects during the George Hudson Undergraduate Research Conference held on campus on Saturday. The conference was organized by SUNY Plattsburgh's Student Chemical Society.

Three SUNY Plattsburgh students were among the presenters. Robert Heintz, a senior chemistry major from Plattsburgh, has been working, with Dr. Ed Miller, on the synthesis of a new type of polymer which contains metal atoms. The new material could be useful in electronic devices.

Colleen McNaney, a senior biochemistry/biophysics major from Rome, is currently investigating, with Dr. Roger Sandwick, the physiological role of brown adipose tissue, a heat producing tissue found in most mammals.

Kimberly Postek, a senior environmental science major from Buffalo, is also working with Dr. Sandwick. Postek has developed an improved procedure to detect an enzyme called ribonuclease, which helps degrade complex nucleic acids in cells.

Summary of the Plattsburgh SUNY Women's Committee

The Plattsburgh SUNY Women's Committee was established by Acting President Jerome Supple and was composed of representatives from the administration, faculty, professional and support personnel as well as students. The charge to this Committee was to address past triumphs, present needs and future goals of women at the State University College at Plattsburgh campus during the past decade as part of a SUNY-wide celebration. At the organizational meeting, held July 1, 1986, the membership elected to establish subcommittees to research areas pertinent to women's concerns. These subcommittee reports were then incorporated in the campus white paper. A summary of this paper follows; un-edited copies may be obtained from department chair offices and/or the President's Office.

Enrollment: The breakdown of male and female students over the past decade shows the overall percentage of undergraduate females not to have changed substantially, although there have been shifts in "academic major" declarations — with the large change taking place within the School of Business and Economics. Biology, chemistry and mathematics also show a sizable increase in the proportion of women students — areas that have been traditionally male. Of note, however, is the increase in both number and percentage of women undergraduates over the age of 25.'

Student Achievement: Over the past five years, 66% of the summa cum laude graduates have been women. Approximately 70% of the Honors Program students have been women. Sixty-six percent of the currently enrolled Presidential Scholars are women, and an overwhelming majority of students recognized at the Annual Honors Convocation have been women. Decade reflections show women in the Student Association administration to have been as follows: four presidents; six vice presidents for fiancée, seven vice presidents for activities, six vice presidents for student services, and eight vice presidents for the arts.

Curriculum: The Women's Studies Program began in the mid-1970s, it is currently a registered academic minor and boasts an integrative component. Both areas maintain strong enrollments. Course offerings include women's history, literature and health. Introductory courses are oversubscribed and the weekly extracurricular Women's Studies Forum is well attended.

Athletics: Some of the recommendations made by the Title IX Review Committee and President's ad Hoc Committee on Women's Athletics have been implemented. Currently, there are an equal number of men's and women's varsity sports, and an active intramural program offers equal opportunities to women.

Staffing: SUNY Plattsburgh now has one female supervising janitor and upholsterer, but few women hold technical or skilled trade positions. During the decade the number of women within the Arts and Science faculty has increased, although there are still four all-male departments on campus. Women predominate the Professional Studies faculty. Distribution of faculty by rank has not changed significantly in the last 15 years. Women accounted for 8% of full professors in 1972; 9% in 1986. They accounted for 23% of associate professors in 1972; 24% in 1986. On the other hand, women made up 71% of all lecturers in 1986, up from 57% in 1972. Overall, only 25% of the full-time faculty are women but a much higher proportion are part-time faculty. Even with the recent early retirements, the campus did not increase its percentage of women as full-time faculty. Few women hold visibility and responsibility in areas of first-level academic administration and some women have moved into management, but only in staff positions.

Compensation: Salary inequity is complex, and the need for more consistent and accurate data is necessary to complete a current salary study. Salary differences between men and women faculty, by rank, actually widened over the past decade; primary contributing factors being longevity and starting salaries. Present practices do not indicate obvious discrimination, but gains remain small and low.

Services: The increase in re-entry women has created a need for support services and a Women's Re-entry Task Force has been established. Some of its recommendations have been accomplished, but a great deal remains to be done. Since the disbanding of this Task Force, the Center for Lifelong Learning and Campus Life are addressing these concerns. The on-campus child care program is addressing a concern, but it cannot accommodate evening students, weekend study needs or part-time day care, and some students cannot afford even the lowest fee on the sliding scale. In answer to safety concerns, a campus escort program has been established, a female security officer has been hired, and campus lighting has been improved. The emergency telephone system needs to be reevaluated.

Female EOP student survey respondents are employed in a field relevant to their major and are satisfied with their positions. However, they indicated they were meeting resistance in the workplace and perceived it to be based on sex.

Alumni: Early women graduates were teachers and nurses. Our more recent graduates are receiving graduate degrees from prestigious institutions and entering business and government agencies, becoming attorneys, physicians, financial analysts, stockbrokers, psychologists and research scientists.

Committee Recommendations: The following concerns were identified as areas for campus community attention:

- Consistent and accurate professional and personnel data files need to be established.
- Aggressive efforts need to be made in recruiting women as full-time faculty and professionals at higher levels of administration.
- Sex-related salary inequities need to be addressed.
- Professional and educational development should be encouraged for all employees.

- Gender issue courses should be required as a part of the General Education curriculum for all students.
- Scholarship on women needs substantial attention within academic disciplines.
- Child care and safety issues need continued attention.
- Increased faculty support of female students through research assistantships, internships, contacts, nondiscriminatory treatment in the classroom, use of nonsexist language and elimination of sexual harassment.

The SUNY Women's Committee believes that progress has been made in many areas and that Plattsburgh has a commitment to improving conditions for women even further. The committee, individually and collectively, will support the college's effort in that direction.

21-Member Women's Committee Composed of All Campus Groups

The 21-member Women's Committee, whose report addressing the concerns of SUNY Plattsburgh's women employees will be the topic of discussion at a symposium scheduled for 3 - 6 p.m. Friday in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge, was broadly representative of the campus community.

Formed last July by then Acting President Jerome Supple, the committee was charged to review the progress of women on campus during the previous decade. The group formed sub-committees to study specific areas and met also as a whole several times. The committee was chaired by Beverly Forster, assistant to the president. Its other members (in alphabetical order): Patricia Bentley, associate librarian; Richard Boas, member of the safety and security staff; Perry Cuocci, president of the Student Association; Mary Ellen Dallman, assistant to the dean of the Faculty of Professional Studies; Jan Edwards, assistant to the president for enrollment management; Debra Felsman, student; Cheryl Hogle, associate director of campus life; Peter Luguri, assistant to the vice president for student affairs; and Thelma Lyon, secretary in the Office of the President.

Adm. Hopper Featured Speaker at Commencement

Grace Murray Hopper, rear admiral (ret.) in the U.S. Naval Reserve and a pioneer in the field of scientific computing, will deliver the principal address at the 97th annual spring commencement exercises to be held May 3 beginning at 11 a.m. in the college Field House.

Hopper, 81, was selected to be commencement speaker by a campus committee composed of students, faculty and staff. In addition to the honor of addressing SUNY Plattsburgh's Class of '87, she will receive the Distinguished Service Award — the highest award the college is permitted to bestow on individuals for service to the college, community, state and/or nation.

A graduate of Vassar (1928) and Yale (MA and PhD in 1930 and 1934 respectively), Hopper was commissioned as an officer in the U.S. Naval Reserve in 1944 and assigned to a Navy computation project at Harvard. There, she learned to program the first large-scale digital computer, Mark I. She later joined Harvard faculty as a Research Fellow in Engineering Sciences and Applied Physics, where work continued on Mark II and Mark III computers for the Navy, and in the late 1940s she was senior mathematician on the project that built UNIVAC I, the first commercial

Marriott Retains Campus Food Service Contract

The Marriott Corporation has submitted the successful bid to provide food services to the campus community — for a five-year period beginning July 1 — under contract with College Auxiliary Services (CAS). Marriott holds the current contract.

Stanley Supinski, executive director of CAS, said that the new contract holds the line on the cost of the meal plan to students for the 1987-88 academic year. He pointed out that students had been advised to expect an increase effective next fall because of an increase of 11 serving days in the college calendar adopted earlier this semester. "This will not happen," said Supinski, "because we were successful in negotiating to keep the cost at the present level of $685 per semester for the 19-meal plan and $647 per semester for the 14-meal plan."

Another attractive feature of the new contract, Supinski added, is an agreement by Marriott to undertake a major rehabilitation of the Sundowner dining facility in the Angell College Center. The project will increase seating and enhance the dining area aesthetically.

Marriott was one of 16 firms on the original bid list (the State of New York mandates that food service contracts at state agencies be bid competitively every five years). An eight-member CAS food service committee composed of students, faculty and staff selected five for serious consideration and then narrowed the field to three contenders, including Marriott. Committee members made site visits to Northeastern University, Wooster Technological Institute and George Mason University to evaluate the finalists in terms of program quality and services. The evaluation process also included on-campus consultations here with both individuals and groups.

The CAS food service evaluation committee, in addition to Supinski, was composed of Dr. Marilyn Chase, director of the Center for Human Resources, Cheryl Hogle, associate director of campus life, and students Becky Lynch, Mark Migliaccio, Colleen O'Brien and Ann Schneider. The late Toni Bloom also served as a committee member.

Med Tech Program Soon to Have Affiliation Agreement With Duke

An agreement affiliating the college's medical technology program with the Duke University Medical Center in Durham, NC is expected to be signed in the near future.

Dr. Richard Sudds, professor of biological sciences and coordinator of the SUNY Plattsburgh medical technology program, returned to campus recently from a two-day meeting with Duke Medical Center faculty on the topic of affiliation. Sudds reported that the faculty at Duke declared the Plattsburgh State medical technology program to be "excellent preparation" for admission to their medical center's clinical program. He pointed out that the agreement will provide clinical internship access for Plattsburgh students to one of the largest medical facilities in the United States.

The college currently maintains affiliation agreements with Rochester General Hospital, St.

Peter's Hospital in Albany, Danbury Hospital in Danbury, CT, St. Joseph's Hospital in Stamford, CT, and Berkshire Hospital in Pittsford, MA. Admission to the fourth year, 52-week clinical internship is competitive, and the final choice of students is up to the participating hospital's admissions committee. The placement rate of Plattsburgh State medical technology students in the 18 years the program has been offered has been between 85% and 90%.

Results of SIR Report Show Student Satisfaction Is High

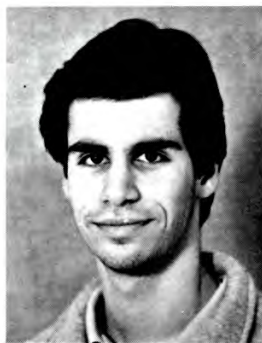

The results of the Fall, 1986 Student Instructional Reports (SIRs) have been released by the Office of Academic Advisement. Suzanne Daley, assistant to the Vice President for Academic Affairs, said this week that the program producing the results has been reorganized along the same format as that used by the Educational Testing Services. For the first time, the national mean for each question has been included on the college-wide report.

The survey shows a high degree of satisfaction with course organization and planning, with Plattsburgh students rating all items in that category higher than the national mean. Faculty/student interaction, too, was rated higher than the national mean, as was the general quality of lectures, communication between students and faculty, and quality of examinations. Quality of instruction was given a 4.15 ranking, on a 5 point scale, by Plattsburgh students, as compared with a 3.97 national mean.

Approximately 63% of the teaching faculty used the SIRs in their classes last fall. The number of participating faculty according to Daley, has seen a steady increase during the past five years. Faculty members will receive their copies of the results very soon.

Davino Assumes SA Presidency

Sophomore Richard Davino of Sea Cliff, NY, has become president of the SUNY Plattsburgh Student Association as a result of the recent resignation of Thomas Schaller. Davino, a communications major, has been serving as executive vice president since December, 1986.

Senator pro tem Jason Mehler, who was appointed to that position earlier this year by Davino, will serve as acting executive vice president of the Student Association until a special election can be arranged by the Board of Elections.

large-scale electronic computer.

In addition to Harvard, Hopper has held teaching positions in either mathematics, engineering or management science at Vassar, the University of Pennsylvania and George Washington University. The author of more than 50 papers and articles on computer software and programming languages, she holds honorary doctoral degrees in engineering and science and in several other fields from many institutions, including the University of Maryland, College of William and Mary, Clarkson University, Bucknell University, Loyola of Chicago, Smith College, Hood College, the University of Pennsylvania, Acadia University in Nova Scotia and Linkoping University in Sweden. Her many awards include the Society of Women Engineers' Achievement Award; the Data Processing Management Association's first Computer Sciences "Man-of-the-Year" award; the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers' (IEEE) Computer Pioneer Medal; the American Association of University Women's Achievement Award; and the Association of Computing Machinery Distinguished Service Award. She is an IEEE Fellow, a member of the National Academy of Engineering and a Distinguished Fellow of the British Computer Society.

Hopper achieved the rank of Captain in the Naval Reserve in 1973. She was promoted to the rank of Commodore ten years later, with the title of that grade changed to Rear Admiral in November of 1985. Hopper served on active duty with the Naval Data Automation Command until her retirement on September 1 of last year.

Large Turnout Expected for Saturday's Spring Open House

The Annual Spring Open House for prospective students and their families is scheduled for Saturday, April 11, and another large turnout is expected. The day's activities will begin with a brief welcome at 9:30 a.m. in the Angell Center Ballroom. Students will then be taken to the department of their choice to talk about the various academic programs with faculty members and students. A special session will be held for undeclared students.

Following the departmental meetings, student tour guides will conduct walking tours of the central areas of the campus, including the Feinberg Library, the Myers Fine Arts Building, Memorial Hall, the Angell Center, and three dormitories. During the afternoon, three workshops are scheduled, with each one to be presented twice. They are: "What to Expect from now till September," by Richard Higgins, director of admissions; "Information for Transfer Students," by

Effects of Reagan's Policies Topic of Middlebury's Johnson

"The Effects of Reagan Administration Economic Policies" is the title of a lecture to be presented at 4:30 p.m. on April 9 in the Orchard Room by David Colander, the Christian A. Johnson Distinguished Professor of Economics at Middlebury College. Colander's visit is sponsored by the local chapter of Omicron Delta Epsilon National Economics Honor Society and the Plattsburgh State Economic Club.

Colander is the author of several books and numerous articles, primarily in the fields of microeconomic approaches to macroeconomic problems and political economy. Well known among these are MAP: A market Anti-Deflation Plan and Macroeconomics. Colander is currently a Visiting Professor at Duke University, on leave from Middlebury. He previously taught at Vassar College and the University of Miami.

Survey of Students Underway

An Academic Development Survey of all students on campus is currently being conducted for analysis this summer, according to Dr. Thomas Moran, assistant vice president for academic affairs. Moran explained that the survey is designed in response to the ACT Survey on Student Satisfaction conducted on campus about two years ago.

The survey contains questions on personal goals, self-assessment in various categories, the efforts students are putting forth in educational areas, how students view the academic and intellectual emphasis on campus, and levels of satisfaction with various aspects of the educational process.

Michael Walsh, transfer counselor; and "Life at Plattsburgh from the Students' View," by a panel of students.

In addition to the formal program, the Bursar's Office and the Campus Life Office will be open to accept deposits for the fall semester, and the College Store will extend its hours to 4 p.m.

Council, Committees to Parley on Presidential Search Process

The SUNY Plattsburgh College Council is scheduled to meet tomorrow in executive session with the presidential search committee and the Faculty Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate in an attempt to further expedite the search process.

With conclusion last week of on-campus interviews of the four finalists for the position, the search committee met Tuesday and recommended three candidates to the Council. The Council will decide whether further examination of the candidates is necessary.

Search committee and College Council Chair Robert M. Garrow reported that the campus-wide response in the evaluation of the candidates has been excellent and is being regarded as highly useful. He added that the outcome of this week's sessions on the presidential search will help to determine whether the Council's recommendation is forwarded to the Chancellor and the SUNY Trustees later this month or in May.

Sports Night Banquet Program to Honor Men, Women Athletes

Plattsburgh State's intercollegiate athletes in all 14 men's and women's sports will be honored Sunday during the annual Sports Night Banquet and Recognition Program scheduled for 7 p.m. in Algonquin Hall. The event is sponsored by the Cardinal Booster Club in cooperation with the college's Alumni Association, its Department of Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports, and the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

The purpose of the event is to salute all Plattsburgh State students, but especially graduating seniors, who represented the college in intercollegiate competition during academic 1986-87. A highlight of the program will be announcement of the selection of the Booster Club's man and woman athletes of the year. More than 200 student-athletes are expected to attend the banquet.

Campus Life Office Announces '87-88 Resident Assistant List

The college's Office of Campus Life has completed the selection process to fill resident assistant positions for academic 1987-88.

Ninety-four students will serve as R.A.s in campus residence halls next year. All receive free room in return for their service and all receive at least partial reduction in the college's board plan. Winkels to Receive Distinguished Service Award

George and Nina Winkel of Keene Valley will jointly receive the college's Distinguished Service Award (DSA) during 97th spring commencement exercises scheduled for 11 a.m. on Sunday, May 3 in the Plattsburgh State Field House.

Established in 1965 by the College Council, the DSA is the highest award the college is permitted to bestow and is presented to honor persons in recognition of their achievements, leadership and service to college, community, state, nation or to the international human community. Past recipients have included the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy, former ABC newsman John Scali, New York State Senator Ronald B. Stafford (R-Plattsburgh), former SUNY Chancellor and U.S. Commissioner of Education Ernest L. Boyer, and, in 1985, Congresswoman Geraldine Ferraro, the first woman in history to be chosen as a candidate for vice president of the United States.

The 1987 recipients will be recognized as leading benefactors of the college who have "distinguished themselves as esteemed and caring friends" of SUNY

Plattsburgh and as "patrons of faith and vision who have earned the lasting gratitude of current and future generations of students and faculty — and of all in the community at large — who enjoy and appreciate art." The citation refers to establishment by

$185,000 Trust Fund to Benefit Students in Health Professions

A major trust fund has been established which will provide scholarships to Clinton County residents who are full-time students at SUNY Plattsburgh and who are majoring in a curriculum which would prepare them to enter a medical or dental-related career or profession. The trust, totalling more than $185,000, was created through a bequest by the late Elva O. Guilbault of Plattsburgh.

Attorney James E. Keable, who serves as the fund's trustee, explained that Ms. Guilbault was, for many years, a dental hygienist in the office of the late Dr. Leroy Earl of West Chazy. She died at the age of 83 in March, 1985 when she was struck by a car.

Income from the investment of the fund will be presented to the Plattsburgh College Foundation each year for students in eligible programs at SUNY Plattsburgh. Currently, eligible programs include nursing, medical technology and biology (pre-med).

The first awards, to be given this fall, have been designated for nursing students. Three categories of awards have been established:

- Honors scholarships for incoming freshmen with a high school average of 92 or above;
- Honors scholarships for graduating seniors from Clinton Community College with an overall GPA of 3.5 or above, and who are transferring to the upper level nursing program at SUNY Plattsburgh.

Foundation Executive Director Don Garratt (L) and SUNY Plattsburgh nursing students Donna Boardman (2nd from R) and Eleanor Mills (R) expressed the college's appreciation for the Elva O. Guilbault Trust Fund to attorney James Keable, the fund's trustee.

- Scholarships for nursing students in good academic standing with demonstrated financial need.

1987 Annual Giving Program Launched; Goal Set at $305,000

The 1987 Annual Giving Program of the Plattsburgh College Foundation is officially underway. The campaign leadership committee met last week to review goals and refine responsibilities for the various drives which constitute annual giving. The College Foundation Board of Directors has established this year's goal at $305,000.

Annual giving at SUNY Plattsburgh historically includes the Alumni Fund, Business Campaign, the Friends' Campaign, Faculty/Staff Drive (already in progress), Cardinal Booster Club, Organizations Campaign, support from foundations, the Parents' Fund and the Senior Class Gift Fund. These groups combined contributed $285,068 in 1986.

Clifford Calongne, second vice president of the Foundation, is overall chair of the 1987 campaign.

Foundation Receives $10,000 Bequest from 1931 Graduate

The Plattsburgh College Foundation has received a bequest in the amount of $10,000 from the estate of Lewis L. Smith, a member of the Plattsburgh Normal School Class of 1931, who died recently in St. Petersburg, Fla. The Smith gift is unrestricted.

Foundation officials believe that the bequest originated as a result of a program in which individuals on a special mailing receive quarterly publications that focus on planned giving opportunities. The mailing list is composed of alumni from the classes of 1916 through 1939, retired Plattsburgh State faculty and staff, and selected friends of the college in the community.

the Winkels of a trust fund with the Plattsburgh Foundation valued at approximately $390,000.

Announced in January, the Winkel Trust represents the largest single gift to the Foundation in its 15-year history. Income derived from the trust will be used for the care and support of the Winkel Collection, which contains numerous works by Nina Winkel, who is known internationally for her work, and to support the further development, maintenance program, commented, "The creation of this fund by Miss Guilbault and the efforts of Mr. Keable on behalf of the College are wonderful evidence of public support for SUNY Plattsburgh and very much appreciated. The fact that the nursing department will share in these benefits is especially exciting, particularly since the entire country is experiencing a serious shortage in that profession."

The first scholarships will be presented for the fall, 1987 semester.

The leadership of the individual campaigns consists of: Alumni Fund, Marge Bouyea and Jim Hutchinson;

Booster Club, John Carpenter; Business, Paul Green and Michael O'Connor; Faculty/Staff, Bruce Butterfield, Nancy Church, Hans Hirsch, and Clara LaRose; Friends, Arlene Buran and William Owens; Organizations, Martin Mannix, Jr.; Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Pope; and Senior Class, Peter Fauth.

In addition to direct gift solicitation, the campaign leaders are responsible for promoting the Foundation and its goals, identifying, recruiting and motivating volunteers and matching prospective contributors with volunteers.

and proper presentation of the college's permanent art collection. It also provides for scholarships, faculty development projects in the humanities and/or academic program enrichment.

Originally from Germany, the Winkels fled Germany in 1942, having lost family, all their possessions and cultural ties. Nina Winkel's work has led her to be named an Academician of the National Academy of Design. She has earned several medals and she is a Fellow of the National Sculpture Society and a winner of the society's Louis Bennet prize. She received the honorary degree of Doctor of Fine Arts from SUNY two years ago. George Winkel is a retired executive vice president of a major international food importing company.

The Winkels will join Grace Murray Hopper, rear admiral (ret.) and a pioneer in the field of scientific computing, as DSA recipients in 1987. As announced last week, Hopper will deliver the principal address at commencement next month.

Osborn's 'Thoughts on Pheidias' to be Dedicated Formally Monday

The formal dedication of "Thoughts On Pheidias," the monumental sculpture created by Don Osborn, associate professor in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, will be held at 4 p.m. on Monday, April 20. The sculpture was completed last November.

Gallery Director and project coordinator Edward Brohel said the commission of the sculpture was made possible by the Campus Beautification Committee. It was approved by the Executive Staff, endorsed by the faculty of the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, and supported by the Student Association through the Campus Arts Council, College Auxiliary Services and Art Resources. Special donations of services and materials were made by Plattsburgh Quarries, Platco Steel, Murnane Associates, Jeffords Steel and Engineering Company, Blackie's Welding Service, and the college's maintenance and operations staff.

The dedication ceremony is open to the campus and community and will be followed by a reception in honor of the artist in the sixth floor boardroom of the Kehoe Building.

Address by U.S. Consul General Will Highlight 'Festival Quebec'

The Center for Lifelong Learning has opened an extension office for Adult Learning Services in Room 712 of the Kehoe Building. Bette Brohel is coordinator of the new office and Darlene Hurd has been appointed as a half-time assistant.

The office will provide a variety of services for adult students, including information and referral, advisement, informal/unofficial transfer evaluation and matriculation into the Individualized Studies program for Adult Learning. In order to improve access to the office and college for these students, the office will be staffed until 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Rockwell Kent Gallery Previews Nina Winkel's Latest Sculpture

A preview showing of the latest work by sculptor Nina Winkel is being held in the Rockwell Kent Gallery through May. Gallery Director Edward Brohel explained that this most recent work, a life-size figure of Christ, was commissioned by St. Remigius Parish Church in Borken, Germany, to replace an ancient figure destroyed during World War II. The Church, Brohel said, is one of the oldest in Germany, with the parish dating from 783 A.D., the church tower from 1000 A.D. and various parts of the church from the 11th, 12th, 13th, and 14th centuries. The figure is expected to be transported to Germany later this spring.

Appointment Confirmed Today

Warren to Assume Presidency

Dr. Charles O. Warren, 47, has been chosen as president of the State University of New York College at Plattsburgh.

Dr. Warren, who currently serves as provost and vice president for academic affairs at SUNY Cortland, was appointed to the position today (April 22) by the State University Board of Trustees. He will assume College Council Chairperson Robert M. Garrow, who also chaired the search committee, commented, "We are very pleased that Dr. Warren has accepted the presidency of SUNY Plattsburgh. The search process was a long and arduous one, but we are convinced that we have chosen the right person for the position. Dr. Warren is an extremely qualified candidate — academically, administratively and personally — and we are looking forward to his guidance and leadership."

Dr. Warren is no stranger to Plattsburgh, having served as dean of arts and science at the college from 1979-1982, before accepting his current position at SUNY Cortland. Prior to coming to Plattsburgh in 1979, he served in several positions at Southwestern College at Memphis (now known as Rhodes College), including dean of arts and science, executive vice president, dean of the college, and professor of biology. He has also taught at Memphis State University and the University of Florida, and served as a research biologist at Memorial University of Newfoundland, Buckman Laboratories in Memphis, and St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

The new president has been active on SUNY-wide committees and currently serves on the Honorary Degrees Committee, the Telecommunications Task Force, the Chancellor's Advisory Council for the New York African American Institute and the State Education Department Regional Council on Teacher Educa-

Ward, 1933-1952; Dr. Edward E. Redcay (acting), 1952-54; Dr. George W. Angell, 1954-74; and Dr. Joseph C. Burke, 1974-86.

the position effective mid-July, succeeding Dr. Joseph C. Burke, president from 1974-86, who was appointed SUNY Provost last September 1.

Dr. Warren's selection culminates an eight-month nationwide search, which attracted approximately 80 candidates, including 10 college and university presidents. He was one of three persons recommended to the SUNY Plattsburgh College Council by an 18-member search committee composed of representatives from the administration, faculty, staff, alumni and students. The College Council in turn unanimously recommended Dr. Warren to the SUNY Trustees.

Budget Situation Unclear; Vacancy Recruitment Hold Imposed

The budget picture for SUNY Plattsburgh remains blurred. According to William Woltjen, assistant vice president for finance, the budget bill for the State of New York has not yet been signed by Governor Cuomo.

Woltjen, who returned to campus late last week following budget meetings in SUNY Central Administration, said it may be another week or ten days before final figures for individual campuses will become available. Testa '76 Joins the Alumni Board; Okay Given for New Chapters

The College's Alumni Association Board of Directors held its spring meeting last weekend and elected a new member, attorney Louis Testa of Albany. Testa received his bachelor's degree in secondary education/mathematics in 1976 and his master's degree in education counselling in 1978, both from SUNY Plattsburgh. In 1981, he received a juris doctor degree from Brooklyn Law School. He is now an associate with Lifset and Lifset of Albany.

The Board voted to continue to provide financial support to the Admissions office to host regional receptions for accepted students. This past year, 677 students and parents were hosted at receptions in Suffolk County, Westchester/Rockland Counties, and the Capital District.

The Board also approved continuing the congratulatory letter campaign, which involves alumni sending letters to accepted freshmen and transfer students. This spring, alumni sent personal letters to more than 1,600 accepted students.

In addition, the Board approved funding to create alumni chapters in Washington, D.C., Florida, Boston, Central New York (Syracuse), the Capital District (Albany area), and Buffalo, and tentatively approved hosting an alumni club leadership conference on campus next spring.

Finally, the Board discussed the possibility of assisting with funding for the College's Centennial Celebration. A decision will be made next fall when the 1988 budget is approved.

The weekend's festivities begin Friday afternoon with the Inaugural Senior Clambake, open to seniors and faculty members. The clambake will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. in the Angell Center Courtyard. Tickets are available at the Angell Center Desk.

On Saturday, approximately 92 nursing graduates will receive their pins during a ceremony scheduled for 1 p.m. in the E Glenn Giltz Auditorium. Dr. Lary Shaffer will be the guest speaker and the ceremony will be followed by a buffet for the nursing graduates and their guests.

The reception will be held in the Angell Center Courtyard. (In the event of rain, it will be held in the Angell Center Ballroom.)

will be required prior to recruiting to fill vacancies. She indicated that all vacancies will be reviewed with the college's vice presidents to determine priority for recruitment.

Although the matter of a budget for the college still lingers, Acting President Penney expressed appreciation to all on campus and in the community who wrote letters, sent telegrams and made telephone calls to their legislators urging reversal of damaging features in the 1987-88 Executive Budget proposed for SUNY and the Plattsburgh campus. "The effort made a difference," she said, "as indicated in the Legislature's action to restore funding."

Stafford-Initiated Legislative Grant Helps Fund Value-Added

While uncertainty clouds the total 1987-88 budget situation at Plattsburgh State, an initiative activated by State Senator Ronald B. Stafford (R-Plattsburgh) means that the college can count on some funding in support of its Value-Added program.

Stafford's staff confirmed early this week that the college will receive a $25,000 "legislative grant" in support of the program. All funds requested (and approved by the SUNY Trustees) to expand Value Added had been eliminated from the 1987-88 Executive Budget recommended by the governor.

Dr. Thomas Moran, assistant vice president for academic affairs, said Stafford's "Member Item" initiative will enable the college to refine approaches to assessing academic performance among students that are currently in use. He said the funding will help also in the analysis of information on student learning and development and in the dissemination of that information for use by academic departments.

Acting President Sherry H. Penney expressed gratitude to Stafford for "rallying behind" the college's call for help. She commented, "The Senator has demonstrated once again his commitment to this institution and the depth of his understanding of this institution's commitment to excellence."

Class of '86 Reports Record Employment Rate

If this weekend's SUNY Plattsburgh graduates meet with job market success similar to their counterparts of a year ago, the college's newest alumni will have much to celebrate in harvesting the fruits of their undergraduate careers.

Preliminary data just becoming available on job placement for 1986 Plattsburgh State graduates indicate that 98.25% of the Class of '86 had found employment within the five to eight-month period following their Commencement Day. Patrick Lennahan, director of the Office of Career Planning and Placement here, said the employment figure represents the highest recorded for any one class since his office began surveying graduates and analyzing their responses twenty years ago. The previous reported high employment rate was 94.9% for the Class of 1984.

Lennahan said the employment data is based on a response rate of 45.4% with survey returns tabulated on 510 members of the Class of 1986. Survey forms are still being received, he added, but the results are not likely to change.

In addition to total employment, the statistics show significant gains in percentage of 1986 graduates who found jobs in fields related directly to their majors (80.3%) and those who reported that their studies at SUNY Plattsburgh had prepared them satisfactorily for their current occupation or for graduate study (89.5%). In both categories, the percentages represent about a one-point gain in comparison with the best-ever previous year, and in both they represent all-time highs.

"The past year has brought the strongest employment picture this office has seen in a long time," commented Lennahan, "and this has occurred when the national projections for employment of new college graduates has been cautious at best. Our sense from recruiters is that they have been pleased with the people they have hired, and they come back for more."

The full report of the Placement Office will become available in about a month.

Five Named Hudson Scholars

Five students have been selected to receive the 1987-88 Hudson Scholarships. These scholarships, named for the late Dr. George H. Hudson, the original teacher of science at the Plattsburgh Normal School at the turn of the century, are awarded to upper-level students solely on the basis of academic excellence. Hudson Scholars must be nominated by their department faculty and final selections are made by a review committee, composed of the chairs of the science and mathematics departments.

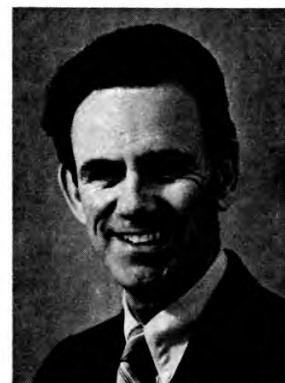

This year's Hudson Scholars, their majors and hometowns are: Tanvir Ahmed, computer science, Lahore, Pakistan; Karen Bahrenburg, biology, Huntington, NY; Teresa Esch, biology, Scotia, NY; Brian Hurysz, 3/2 engineering, Wayne, NY; and Arthur LaMarche, biochemistry, Plattsburgh, NY.

Dr. John L. Myers, professor of history, was re-elected as chairperson of the SUNY Plattsburgh Faculty Senate at last Tuesday's organizational meeting of the 1987-88 Senate. Michael Miranda, senior assistant librarian, was elected vice chairperson of the next Senate and Melanie Wyand, director of student activities, will serve as its secretary.

Elected as senators at-large were Lawrence Arcarese, associate professor of communications, and Dr. Raymond Domenico, associate professor of hearing and speech science.

Debevec-Henning Is Recipient of Distinguished Faculty Award

Dr. Sylvie Debevec-Henning, assistant professor in the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature, has been named recipient of the SUNY Plattsburgh Chapter of Phi Eta Sigma's Distinguished Faculty Award for 1987. Phi Eta Sigma is the national academic honorary society for freshmen.

Instituted in 1984, the annual award recognizes the person who in the past year "has contributed the most to the academic success of freshmen, who was the most effective teacher of freshmen and who showed the greatest concern for the academic welfare of freshmen." It was presented to Henning Sunday evening during the college's 4th Academic Convocation.

Henning was chosen to receive the award from

Tax Reform Act of '86 Contains New Rules That Affect Students

The Federal Tax Reform Act of 1986 requires that, beginning with the 1987 taxable year, certain forms of student financial assistance (e.g., PELL, TAP) must be claimed as taxable income. This includes all assistance received as compensation for services provided to the institution (e.g., room rental waivers). Under the new reforms:

- Any form of assistance provided as compensation for services is taxable as income. This will affect students receiving a room rental waiver as compensation for services as a resident assistant or for other types of responsibilities.
- The Act limits the exclusion from income of scholarships and fellowships received by degree candidates. Degree candidates only may exclude the portion of the scholarship and fellowship award received which covers tuition and course-related expenses (i.e., fees, books, supplies, and equipment required for courses of instruction). No portion of a scholarship or fellowship received by a non-degree candidate can be excluded from income.
- Students will have to separate the taxable and non-taxable portion of their student aid when filing their federal tax forms and will have to maintain records to document permitted expenses. They are advised to keep copies of relevant bills, receipts, cancelled checks, and other documentation for tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment.
- Beginning in 1987, students whose parents claim them on their tax returns as dependents will no longer be able to claim themselves on their own personal returns.

The new law is unclear in many ways and it is expected that clarifying regulations will be issued over the next several months.

Vice President for Academic Affairs Dr. Jerome H. Supple (l) and Phi Eta Sigma President Kathy Kane (r) salute the recipient of the academic honorary society's 1987 Distinguished Faculty Award, Dr. Sylvie Debevec-Henning.

among eight faculty nominated by freshmen members of the college's chapter of Phi Eta Sigma. A member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty for the past two years, she has taught previously at the University of Rochester and at the University of Wisconsin-Parkside.

Previous recipients of the society's Distinguished Faculty Award have been Dr. Lawrence Shaffer, associate professor of psychology, in 1984; Dr. Mark Cohen, professor of anthropology, in 1985; and Dr. Stuart Baum, professor of chemistry, who was honored last spring.

Flynn to Conduct Summer Study in Houston as NASA Fellow

Dr. George Flynn, assistant professor of physics, has won a Summer Faculty Fellowship, awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the American Society of Engineering Educators, to conduct research at the NASA Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas for ten weeks this summer. Flynn will be working in the Space and Life Sciences Division, which has responsibility for the NASA Cosmic Dust collection and analysis program, as well as the Orbital Space Debris program.

Flynn was one of about 28 scientists selected from more than 125 applicants for the research fellowships.

Flynn, who joined the Plattsburgh State faculty in September, 1985, has worked for several years on the analysis of cosmic dust particles. Last fall, through his efforts, the college was allocated six particles collected through the NASA cosmic dust collection program.

Flynn's work with cosmic dust began while he was doing graduate work at Washington University, and he assisted in the design of the NASA laboratory where he will spend the summer.

Town Meeting '87 to Focus on Meeting Needs of New Students

"Challenging the New Student: Enhancing the Academic Climate of the Campus" is the theme of Town Meeting 1987 — a program scheduled for the evening of Thursday, May 7, and continuing throughout the following day, devoted to the exchange of ideas about teaching and learning and how the college as a whole can improve its performance. Town Meeting is an all-college event, and faculty and staff, and students who remain on campus following spring commencement, are encouraged to attend and participate.

"Our own research reflects national findings that the first semester of college and campus life is the most difficult for freshmen and transfer students," commented Dr. Ingrun Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs and Town Meeting organizer. "These students are most in need of involvement in the cultural and intellectual life of the college, of skills development and of advisement and orientation to the institution. We believe that focusing on their needs can make the college experience more meaningful for all and can serve as a springboard for thinking about ways to highlight the intellectual, cultural and social resources of our college."

Town Meeting will begin at 7 p.m. on Thursday in the Angell Center Ballroom with brief presentations on "The New Student Challenge" by members of the faculty, administration and student body. This will be followed by the formation of discussion groups that will develop proposals designed to meet the needs of new students.

Friday's program will begin at 9 a.m. with an address by Acting President Sherry H. Penney on the topic "The Challenges Facing Plattsburgh in Light of Current Concerns in Higher Education." Following a discussion session, Dr. Kenneth Hoeltzel, professor in the Center for Human Resources, will explore the attitudes and expectations of students and faculty alike in addressing the topic, "Turning Students On." A panel of administrators and campus resource persons will then focus on current plans designed to meet the needs of new students and how current resources can or cannot meet recommendations made earlier in the program. The afternoon will feature faculty and student interaction and demonstrate active learning for new students, and Town Meeting will end with a listing of specific proposals for action and implementation during the coming fall term and over the next few years.

Town Meeting will conclude officially following a family picnic for the campus community sponsored by the Office of Lifelong Learning.

President's Club Brunch Fetes 120 Individuals and Businesses

A record 120 contributors at the President's Club level were honored Sunday at the Plattsburgh College Foundation's second annual brunch and recognition program held in the Angell Center Orchard Room.

President's Club members are donors whose gifts to the Foundation total at least $500 annually. In 1986 the Foundation received President's Club gifts from 25 first-time contributors at that level and from 95 individuals or businesses that renewed their membership. By comparison, new President's Club gifts in 1986 increased by 67% over first-time gifts received in the previous year.

Sunday's brunch program featured welcoming remarks by Curtis E. Shipman, Foundation president, and remarks acknowledging the support of President's Club members by Dr. Sherry H. Penney, acting president. Penney also presented plaques to new members of the President's Club and plaque tabs to those who renewed their membership.

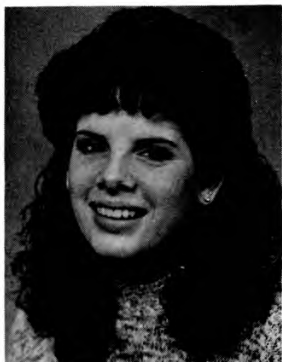

New individual President's Club members in 1986 were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Arcarese '62; Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Booth; Mr. and Mrs. David Craw '64; Linda W. Filardi '81; Elizabeth A. Kelly; Dr. William E. Krueger and Suzy Johnson; Dr. David N. Mowry; Dr. Sherry H. Penney and Dr. James D. Livingston; Drs. Eldridge and Mary Roark; M. Margaret Ryan '32; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis E. Shipman; Adrian H. Wood '39.

The Plattsburgh College Foundation's Business Campaign begins officially tomorrow.

Co-chaired by Paul Green and Michael O'Connor, the business component of the Foundation's overall Annual Giving program will be conducted over the next two months to generate gifts for scholarships for students. The 1986 campaign raised $87,485, and that amount provided scholarships to 165 SUNY Plattsburgh students. The goal for the 1987 drive is $90,000.

Green and O'Connor have been charged to mobilize a group of campaign "captains" whose role is to direct and motivate volunteers who solicit gifts from regional businesses via personal contact. Team captains for 1987 are: Dan Adams, Marge Atwater, George Bouyea, Anne Brandell, Tom Cronin, Aird Dorrance, Carl Leahy, Terry Meron, Harry Mowry, Michael Murray and Roger Nolette.

Senior Class Gift Fund Shows Signs of Substantial Progress

The Senior Class Gift Fund, in its second year as part of the Annual Alumni Fund, is showing signs of substantial progress.

As of April 16, the campaign had more than doubled pledges to last year's initial effort with gift commitments of more than $8,000 on the books from 160-plus seniors. Peter Fauth, a senior biology major and chairperson of the 1987 drive, said that senior students conducted their first-ever senior phonathon on April 15 and recorded $5,000 in pledges from about 100 donors. The phonathon, in combination with a direct mail appeal, is expected to generate $12,000 in gifts to the Plattsburgh College Foundation from more than 200 current seniors before the campaign ends later this year.

Joining Fauth as student volunteer campaigners this year are seniors Mary Ball, Aimee Cameron, Mike De Clerck, Jayne Janecek, Michael Kane, Kim Kenyon, Rebecca Lynch, Laurie Mante, Lisa Marsh, Carolyn Marzigliano, Ann McLaughlin, Frank Splensieri, Katie Talmage, and Stuart Wirth.

The dates for several major fall events have been set and planning is already underway. Parents Weekend will be held September 25-27, the annual Fall Open House for Prospective Students will be held on September 26 and Homecoming Weekend is scheduled for October 16-18. Details of all three events will be announced next fall.

(This is the final edition of "This Week on Campus" for academic 1986-87. Publication will resume in the fall.)

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday the week prior to publication.

1987-88 Budget Is Final; Difficult Year Forecast

Final figures are in on the college's $24,063,800 operating budget for fiscal 1987-88, and the news is distressing. Forced savings totaling nearly $320,000, combined with imposition of a mandate to reduce energy consumption by an additional two percent, point to a difficult year for SUNY Plattsburgh financially — the most difficult, some predict, it has ever faced.

"One immediate consequence of this budget," remarked John Homburger, college controller, "is that all departments and offices have been directed to cut expenditures by a total of 10 percent in their budgets for temporary service and supplies and expenses. Another is that Acting President (Sherry H.) Penney's directive that the approval of her office will be required prior to recruitment to fill vacancies will be in effect indefinitely."

Homburger explained that while the State Legislature restored $3 million of $9 million in forced savings eliminated in the governor's original budget

Admissions Close End of May; Rate of Applications Up 9.1%

SUNY Plattsburgh closed admissions for freshmen during the last week of May, according to Admissions Director Richard Higgins. The May closing is one of the earliest closing dates in the history of the college.

"We're pleased with the success we have had in attracting qualified applicants," Higgins said, "as well as in ensuring the overall quality indicators of our freshman class."

Higgins said that despite the declining numbers of graduating high school seniors, the application rate at SUNY Plattsburgh this year increased by 9.1%, and is up 20% over the rate of two years ago. He noted a significant increase in students applying as undeclared majors, an option encouraged for students unsure of their immediate academic plans, and for which the college maintains a special advisement program.

Higgins attributed the increase in applications to the college's diversified curriculum, strong financial aid support from the Plattsburgh College Foundation, co-operative education opportunities, and a new marketing approach, which includes a direct mail campaign aimed at increasing awareness of SUNY Plattsburgh among prospective students.

proposal for SUNY, the college's share amounted to $61,400. That represents a recovery of only 16.2 percent in a forced savings shortfall originally estimated to total $380,000. He said that where the college had requested $250,000 in funding for supplies and expenses, only $75,100 has been allocated to this campus from the $5 million restored to SUNY by the legislature. The college's energy problem, however, has required the administration to freeze those funds.

"We honestly believe we have accomplished as much as we can to conserve energy," said Homburger, "so we have had to shelve the funds for supplies and expenses to help meet the mandated reduction in fuel consumption. There clearly has been no significant 'legislative bail-out' for 1987-88. What is particularly disturbing, as the college begins the budget preparation process for academic 1988-89, is that the State of New York by all accounts is in very good shape financially."

On the plus side, the college received $238,500 for the replacement of academic equipment and $64,500 for general equipment replacement. Additionally, the college's share of $1.2 million allocated to SUNY for system-wide automation of library cataloguing systems totals $81,500.

The total budget for SUNY Plattsburgh represents

President-designate Warren to Assume Office July 9th

Dr. Charles O. Warren will assume office officially as SUNY Plattsburgh's eighth president on Thursday, July 9.

Warren, who has been provost and vice president for academic affairs at SUNY Cortland since 1982, has been keeping abreast of developments here since his new appointment was announced by the University's Trustees on April 22. He visited the college as an observer during the May 7 - 8 "Town Meeting" program held on campus, and he returned to the North Country the weekend of May 23 - 24 to witness the inauguration of Dr. Jay Fennell as president of Clinton Community College. Warren's next visit here will be on June 18 and 19 to take part in meetings on the proposed budget for the college for academic 1988-89 with Acting President Sherry H. Penney and members of the institution's Executive Staff.

Coveted Chancellor's Awards Honor Cohen, Gruendling, Hogle

Two faculty members and a professional staff member are among 47 persons honored recently as recipients of the 1987 Chancellor's Awards. Drs. Mark Cohen and Gerhard Gruendling, professors of anthropology and environmental science, respectively, received Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Teaching, and Cheryl Hogle, associate director of campus life, won the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Professional Service.

The Chancellor's Awards Program was created in 1972 to honor faculty and staff members for outstanding service to the university. Campus committees nominate candidates for the awards. Nominations are further evaluated by a SUNY-wide Chancellor's advisory Committee, and the final selections are made by the Chancellor. Winners receive a commemorative medallion to be worn at formal academic ceremonies.

Cohen, a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty since 1971, has achieved international renown for his research work focusing on the health of the Maya in Belize. That work is currently supported by a grant from the National Science Foundation. In 1985, he won a John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation Fellowship, and spent the 1985-86 academic year as a visiting scholar in the department of archaeology at Wolfson College of Cambridge University in England. Cohen is the author of two books, The Food Crisis in Prehistory, and Paleopathology at the Origins of Agriculture, and senior editor of Biosocial Mechanisms of Populations Regulation. Another volume, Civilization & Health will be published by the Yale University Press in the near future. Cohen has an A.B. from Harvard and a Ph.D. from Columbia.

Gruendling joined the Plattsburgh faculty in 1969 in the biological sciences department. He is now on the faculty of the Center Earth and Environmental Sciences, and is involved in several research projects (with Dr. Donald Bogucki) on acid rain and the potential impact of lampricides on Lake Champlain an increase overall of 4.6 percent. However, noted Acting President Penney, salary increases alone for faculty and staff in the budget year range from five to six percent, meaning funding is insufficient to meet them.

"This budget will be burdensome to all on campus," she said, "and it will test our collective resolve to preserve quality and provide the best we can in services to students. We must re-group for another round of lobbying for the University by telling and re-telling its story, while at the same time identifying and seeking new and substantial sources of funding."

wetlands. During the last three years, they have won more than $350,000 in external funding for their research. Their work is currently supported by grant funds from the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation, the Adirondack Park Agency, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and Lockheed, Inc. Gruendling has a bachelor's degree from Springfield College, a Ph.D. from the University of New Hampshire, and has done post-doctoral study at the University of British Columbia.

Hogle, who earned both her bachelor's and her master's degrees from SUNY Plattsburgh, joined the Campus Life staff in 1974 as a residence director and personnel coordinator. She later became the residence hall personnel coordinator and was promoted to associate director of campus life in 1979. She is responsible for recruiting, selecting, training, and supervising the residence hall directors and resident assistants. She is also responsible for the summer orientation program which acquaints new students and their parents with SUNY Plattsburgh. She serves as advisor to the Student Association Senate and is co-founder, a charter member, and faculty secretary of the campus chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa.

Summer Weekly

WEEKLY is published three times during the summer months — on the first Wednesday in June, July and August. The next two issues will appear on July 1 and August 5, respectively. Items for publication or story ideas should be submitted to the Office of Communications, Rm. 810, Kehoe Building. Copy deadlines are 12 noon on Monday of the week of publication.

Gift from Lions Club Benefits Both This College and Clinton

"The Lions Club believes in education and in supporting our community." Those were the words of Charles Costantino, president of the Plattsburgh Lions Club, as he presented checks to the presidents of Clinton Community College and SUNY Plattsburgh, creating endowment funds with both colleges. Costantino added that the Lions have provided scholarship assistance through the Annual Giving Program to students at SUNY Plattsburgh for several years, but this year, decided to make a more lasting gift to both colleges.

Income from the endowment funds, each in the amount of $5,000, will be used to provide scholarship assistance to Clinton County students attending the

Alumni Reunion Programs Begin

The first in a series of spring regional reunion and reception programs was held last Friday evening at the Holiday Inn in Kingston for alumni who live and work in the mid-Hudson area. Don Garran, assistant to the president for college relations and development, and Malcolm Lavery, director of alumni affairs, represented the college at the event.

Similar programs are scheduled for Buffalo area alumni on June 5 at the Darwin Martin House in Buffalo, and for Central New York State alumni on June 13 at Nikkis' in Syracuse. The reunions are self-supporting and are coordinated in cooperation with members of the Alumni Association's Board of Directors who reside in areas where they are held.

'Family History' Workshop Open to Area Middle School Youth

"Family History in the North Country" is the theme of a workshop to be offered free of charge this summer for area youth of middle school age.

The workshop is divided into two three-week units. The first, scheduled for July 6 - July 24, will focus on the participants' own family histories. The second, scheduled for August 3 - August 21, will focus on occupations and their impact on family life.

Participants in both sessions will visit North Country museums, talk with experts in local history, study old documents and photographs, interview family members, create exhibits and displays, and help produce a video tape. In all activities they will work closely with SUNY Plattsburgh faculty, local secondary teachers, and museum and library resource persons.

This workshop is a continuation of a project initiated in 1985 when 25 area young people participated in a similar five-week program funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The youth produced an exhibit on local family history which is currently on display in Sibley Hall on the two colleges. Scholarship awards will be based on demonstrated financial need and academic merit.

Acting President Sherry H. Penney accepted the gift on behalf of the SUNY Plattsburgh Foundation. She expressed gratitude to the Lions Club, saying, "It is heartwarming to see a community group like this show such concrete support for the college and for our students."

Accepting on behalf of Clinton Community College were Dr. Jay Fennell, president, and Christopher "Kit" Booth, president of Clinton Community's Foundation.

SUNY Plattsburgh campus. The exhibit, plus an eight-page illustrated Student to Student Guide to Family History and a 20-minute slide presentation (also created by participants), were viewed at many area schools in 1985-86.

The enthusiastic reception of the project among participants, parents and local educators led to its continuation in 1986 with an abbreviated workshop based on local funding. This year's workshop is again funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities (with supplementary funding from SUNY Plattsburgh). Project directors Dr. Suzann Buckley, professor of history, and Dr. Patricia Higgins, associate professor anthropology, hope to use the materials developed and the experience gained through the NEH-funded projects to make this workshop a regular summertime opportunity for area youth.

Young people completing grades 6, 7, or 8 may apply for one or both of the 1987 summer sessions by requesting an application from their school principal or by contacting Dr. Buckley at 564-5215 or Dr. Higgins at 564-4003.

Math Speed Functions Enhanced by Intel's Computer Chip Gift

Many of the college's computers are performing mathematics functions much faster, since the Intel Corporation of Hillsboro, Oregon donated computer chips worth approximately $15,000. Gordon DeVries, a member of the Technical Assistance Center staff and the person who coordinated the project, explained that Intel is a major manufacturer of computer chips. The chips donated by the corporation are math co-processors for IBM and IBM-compatible microcomputers. They increase the speed of functions requiring extensive mathematical calculations by up to 100 times.

DeVries said the chips are being placed in microcomputers in the computer science department, the Academic Computing Office, the School of Business and Economics, and various computer laboratories, as well as in TAC. Dr. Sherry Penney, acting president, commented, "These computer chips not only increase our processing power, but will provide new challenges to our students. We thank Intel Corporation for its help in making a strong campus even stronger."

EAP on Campus 'Revitalized'; Office Opens in Memorial Hall

The SUNY Plattsburgh Employee Assistance Program (EAP) has been "revitalized," and space and resources have been made available to the program. Acting President Sherry H. Penney announced recently that an EAP office has been established in Room 217 of Memorial Hall as a means "to better serve the campus community."

Acting President Sherry H. Penney (l) cuts the ribbon to officially open the Employee Assistance Program office in Memorial Hall. Witnessing the event are program coordinators Helen Rock and Dr. David Bedworth.

Dr. David Bedworth and Mrs. Helen Rock will serve as EAP coordinators. They will maintain regular office hours as well as on-call answering service — 3277 (EAPP) — to take messages. Clients are welcome to visit the office with or without an appointment.

EAP is designed to serve a dual purpose. First, it provides confidential, non-judgmental referral services for any type of problems employees or their dependents may face. Second, it will offer programs to support the overall well-being of members of the faculty and staff. The program was established statewide in New York in 1981 through joint labor-management negotiations involving the CSEA, PEF, Council 82 and UUP.

Reception for Penney Scheduled

A reception honoring Acting President Sherry H. Penney in recognition of her leadership to the college during the past year is scheduled for Thursday, June 18 from 3:30 to 6 p.m. in the Angell Center Blue Room. The event is open to the entire campus community. A cash bar will be available, and snacks and non-alcoholic beverages will be provided.

Dr. Penney assumed office here last October on appointment of the SUNY Board of Trustees for the duration of the college's presidential search. She will return to SUNY Central Administration, where she will resume duties as vice chancellor for academic programs, policy and planning, early next month.

Wolosz Receives Grant To Locate 'Edgecliff Reefs'

Dr. Thomas Wolosz, assistant professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, has won a two-year grant in the amount of $71,789 from the U.S. Department of Energy to support his research project entitled "Depositional and Diagenetic History of the Edgecliff Reefs (Middle Devonian Onondaga Formation of New York and Ontario)."

Wolosz explained that the Edgecliff Reefs are coral reefs, created about 375 million years ago when the ocean covered the state. These reefs run from south of Albany to Buffalo and on into Ontario and, when found underground, tend to contain oil and gas deposits. Wolosz said he hopes to develop a method of predicting their exact location.

As part of his project, Wolosz is investigating exposed portions of the reefs in an effort to determine how they were formed where they were formed. He will also study existing seismic profiles of various areas of the state. Following the data collection, Wolosz will attempt to construct a three-dimensional computer model of the ocean floor as it existed during that ancient era.

Beginning this fall, two students will assist Wolosz in his work. In August, he will deliver a paper, based on his preliminary work on this topic, during the Second International Symposium on The Devonian System, which will be held in Calgary, Canada.

30 Students Taking Part in Summer Music Theatre Workshop

Thirty students from around the state have arrived on campus to take part in the Fourth Annual Summer Music Theatre Workshop. The workshop, according to Richard Probert, director of the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, is "an intensive period of individualized training in acting, singing and dance, culminating in a full-scale musical production."

This year's production is "Bye, Bye Birdie." The musical will be presented July 9 - 12 and July 14 - 19 at 8 p.m. and July 15 and 19 at 3 p.m. in the Hartman Theatre. Tickets are available through the Hartman Theatre Box Office (564-2283).

Broadway professional Carol Estey is director and choreographer for this year's production. Guest artists and instructors are Tim Ewing, who has appeared in regional theatre, off-Broadway productions, and on several television serials including "Another World" and "As the World Turns," and Gena Ramsell, who has appeared in several Broadway productions, in several films, including "The Jerk II" and "Come Back to the 5 and Dime, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Dean," and on "One Live to Live." Richard Zielinski and Peter Kairoff of the Center faculty will serve as music director and co-director, respectively.

Other faculty and staff members include: scenic designer — Louis N. DiCrescenzo of Chicago; technical director — R. Mitchell Fore of SUNY Plattsburgh; stage manager — Pamela Kildahl of the University of Minneapolis; costume designer — Katherine Kohl of the University of Minnesota; dance instructor — Vance Holmes; and acting instructor — Larry Ruth, both of Minneapolis.

Council Meets Next Thursday

The College Council will meet at 4 p.m. on Thursday, July 9 at the Valcour Educational Conference Center. Agenda items include discussions of enrollment, the Middle States interim report, and the plan for the college's Centennial celebration. Council meetings are open to the campus and community.

Summer Weekly

WEEKLY, produced three times during the summer months, will be published next on August 5. Items for publication or story ideas should be submitted to the Office of Communications, Rm. 810, Kehoe Building. The copy deadline is 12 noon on Monday, August 3.

French-Canadian Institute Draws 14 Teachers from 12 States

Fourteen high school French teachers from twelve states will arrive in Plattsburgh today to take part in SUNY Plattsburgh's Fourth Annual French-Canadian Institute for Language and Culture.

Dr. Jeanne Kissner, associate director of the college's Center for the Study of Canada and coordinator of the institute, explained that the twelve-day workshop is designed to familiarize language teachers — usually trained in French as spoken in France and in the history and culture of France — with Quebecois French and the history and culture of French Canada.

Participants in the workshop will be on this campus until July 4. During that period, they will receive instruction in the Quebecois French language, as well as lessons in French Canadian history, geography, literature, politics, economics, and films.

They will leave for Montreal on July 4 and will tour the city, continue their language instruction, visit the U.S. Consulate, and meet with Lise Bissonnette, a journalist for the "Toronto Globe and Mail."

State Home Bureaus' Federation Creates Fourth Endowment Here

SUNY Plattsburgh is the latest recipient of an endowment fund created by the New York State Federation of Home Bureaus. Joan Romanow, representing the Federation's State Scholarship Committee, formally presented a check for $7,500 to Curtis E. Shipman, president of the SUNY Plattsburgh College Foundation during the Home Bureau's recent North District meeting in early May.

The endowment, the 61st created by the Federation and the fourth such fund presented by the Federation to SUNY Plattsburgh, is named in honor of the Clinton County Home Bureau. Income from its investment will provide scholarships to SUNY Plattsburgh students enrolled in the elementary education program.

Alice Bubbins, a 1932 Plattsburgh graduate and scholarship chairman for the Clinton County Home Bureau, explained that the 400 members of the county chapter raised more than $1500 last year for the statewide program. As a result of their outstanding efforts, this year's scholarship was awarded in their honor.

The Federation's other endowments at SUNY Plattsburgh honor three past state presidents, Ethel Carpenter Fay of Franklin County, Cecile Perkins of Warren County and Gladys Sample Perras of Plattsburgh. They were created in 1954, 1956, and 1974, respectively. Each provides financial aid to students enrolled in various home economics programs at the college.

On July 8, the group will travel to Quebec City. While there, they will visit museums, bookstores, and the National Assembly. They will also be guests at a reception hosted by the Quebec Government.

The workshop will end on July 11 upon the group's return to Montreal. The institute is funded by SUNY Plattsburgh with assistance from the U.S. Department of Education.

Report on Housing Indicates Dorms Will be Full This Fall

A report on housing dated last Friday indicates that campus residence halls will be at capacity when academic 1987-88 begins in September.

The report, prepared by Housing Administrator Cathy Moulton, shows that paid deposits have been received from 2,663 prospective occupants — 60 below the space available for assignment. It states that the deposits have been paid by 1,296 returning students and 1,367 new admits (987 freshmen and 380 transfer students). The continuing student figure was higher than a year ago on June 26 while the new student figure was higher by 100 paid deposits.

Moulton said that not only will the 60 available spaces be assigned in the very near future but also that some tripling in campus residence halls is inevitable. "By this time in the summer applications for housing normally have slowed to a trickle," she stated. "That hasn't been the case this year."

The college announced last month that admissions for freshmen had closed during the last week in May. The May closing was one of the earliest closing dates in the history of the college.

Upward Bound Program Attracts 100 from Three-County Region

One hundred students from 19 high schools in Clinton, Essex and Franklin counties are participating in this summer's Upward Bound Program. The program, which runs from June 21 through July 31, is designed to teach the study skills that these students will need to succeed in college.

Another 50 students, all of whom will be members of the incoming freshman class this fall, are also on campus to take part in the Educational Opportunity summer program. EOP provides special aid funds, counseling, reading and communication skills programs, and tutoring services.

The SUNY Research Foundation has sponsored a U.S. Department of Agriculture Summer Feeding Program for Children, which will make free meals available to eligible students participating in these two summer programs.

7 of 8 Food & Nutrition Graduates Accepted into Internships

Seven of eight spring 1987 graduates of the college's B.S. program in Food and Nutrition have been accepted into dietetic internships.

Experience in an accredited dietetic internship in a health care facility, college or school is one of the three post-baccalaureate degree options students must fulfill in order to meet American Dietetic Association requirements for membership and registered dietitian status. The other two involve an approved, three-year work experience or an advanced degree in nutrition or related area with six months of approved experience.

"Competition for acceptance into such internships is keen," commented Dr. Carrie Harris, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, who coordinates the internship program. "Approximately 38 percent of those who apply nationally are accepted. This year's 87 percent acceptance rate of our students is consistent with our college's track record in recent years, and it points to the obvious high quality of the program offered here. Program excellence is manifest also in the geographical distribution of our students in internship programs."

Harris pointed out that agencies that offer internships traditionally seek students from diverse regions. "This spring, however," she said, "three of our students were accepted by the same agency in Westchester County and two were accepted by a health services firm in Johnson City. Upon completing their internships, the students will become eligible to take the association's registration examination."

The seven who earned internship appointments, their hometowns and the agencies that will provide the experiences are: Amy Andrew, Eagle Bridge, United Health Services, Inc., Johnson City; Jan Barrows, Ossining, Westchester County Medical Center, Valhalla; Elizabeth Morgan DeLuca, Champlain, Westchester County Medical Center; Shelly DeMarmels, Warwick, United Health Services;

Kimmage Receives UUP Award to Study Libraries in Russia

Dennis Kimmage, associate librarian, has been awarded a grant totaling $2,550 to study libraries in the Soviet Union. He will travel in Russia during the period of July 9 through August 15.

The award to Kimmage is from the New York State/United University Professions Joint Labor-Management, Professional Development and Quality of Working Life Committees. It will enable him to visit the Lenin State Library, Gorky Scientific Library of the Lomonosov State University, Saltykov-Shchedrin State Public Library and the Gorky Scientific Library of the Zhdanov State University.

Astaire Classics from the 30s Headline Summer Film Series

The Nineteenth Annual Summer Classic Film Series will feature six of the great 1930's musicals, according to series coordinator Phil Reines. "This series is movie nostalgia at its best," Reines said. The movies will be shown in CL-200 each Wednesday evening beginning at 7:30 p.m. and each program will also feature classic cartoons. Admission is free and open to the campus and community.

The schedule of movies in the series is as follows:

July 7: The Gay Divorcee (1934), starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, Betty Grable, and Edward Everett Horton;

July 14: Top Hat (1935), with Astaire, Rogers and Lucille Ball;

July 21: Carefree (1938), featuring Astaire, Rogers, Ralph Bellamy, and Hattie McDaniel;

July 28: Roberta (1932), with Astaire, Rogers, Irene Dunn and Randolph Scott;

August 4: Footlight Parade (1933), starring James Cagney, Joan Blondell and Ruby Keeler; and August 11: 42nd Street (1933), featuring Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler and Warner Baxter.

3 SUNY Plattsburgh Students Named Congressional Scholars

Three SUNY Plattsburgh students are among 150 New York State students selected to receive 1987-88 academic year Congressional Teacher Scholarships.

To qualify, students must be enrolled in a program designated as a shortage area in teacher education and agree to teach in that shortage area in New York State for a designated period of time. The shortage areas include mathematics, science, bilingual education, foreign languages, teachers of children with handicapping conditions, teachers of English to speakers of other languages and the occupational education areas of agriculture, business education, home economics and industrial arts.

Ann Margaret Bates, a sophomore speech and hearing handicapped education major from Poland, NY, and Kimberly Dupee, a senior special education major from Massena, have been selected as recipients. Also designated as a recipient is Darcie E. Starks, also of Massena, who has applied as a transfer student for the fall, 1987 semester and plans to major in special education.

Two members of the Nursing Department, Janet Alexander, associate professor, and Alice Champagne, assistant professor, attended the 1987 American Nurses Association House of Delegates as elected delegates of the New York State Nurses Association. The House of Delegates was held June 5-9 in Kansas City, Mo. . . Dr. Marilyn A. Chase, director of the Center for Human Resources, has been re-appointed to an additional three-year term as a panelist on the Chicago-based Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel. The Panel is sponsored by the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association and the National Retail Merchants Association. . . Janet Edwards, assistant to the president for enrollment management, served as a panelist that explored the topic "Review of SUNY Enrollment Management Plans that are Currently in Operation" during a recent SUNY Financial Aid Professionals Conference held in Glens Falls. . . An end-of-the-1986-87-academic-year report from the Department of Psychology highlighted the professional activity of Drs. Patricia A. Jarvis and Taher Zandi, assistant professors. Jarvis is listed as co-author of a paper entitled "Sensitivity to Nonverbal Communication Among Learning Disabled Male Adolescents" which will appear in Perceptual Motor Skills. She is co-author of papers presented at two separate professional meetings held in April. They are: "Infant Irritability Among Three Groups of Premature Newborns," presented at the Eastern Psychological Association Meeting held in Washington, D.C., and "Maternal and Paternal Grandmothers: Behavior With Infant Grandchildren in a Strange Situation," presented at a meeting of the Society for Research in Child Development held in Baltimore. Jarvis has received a Summer Stipend for Students Award under the New Faculty Research Program sponsored by SUNY. Zandi is co-author with SUNY Plattsburgh undergraduates of two papers presented at the Eastern Psychological Association Meeting in April in Washington: "Effect of Context on Recall of Past Information," with student Andrea Meldrum listed as principal investigator, and "Encoding Strategies of Young and Older Adults," with students Julie Castle and Meldrum listed as co-authors. Zandi also presented a paper entitled "Social Support Network for the Elderly in Nursing Homes," at a meeting of the New York State Nursing Association held on campus and served as chair of the annual meeting of the college's gerontology program. . . . Four members of the college administration constituted a panel that discussed "The Evolution of the Institutional Researcher's Role as Collaborator: The Plattsburgh Experience" at the 27th Annual Forum of the Association for Institutional Research held May 3 - 6 in Kansas City. The four were Diana M. Green, director of institutional research and analytical research; Jean V. Morlock, associate in institutional research; Janet M. Edwards, assistant to the president for enrollment management;

Roark Jr., vice president for student affairs and national vice president of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society, served as the presiding officer at the recent installation of ODK circles at Livingston (Alabama) University, the University of North Carolina-Asheville and Clemson University. ODK has circles on more than 200 college and university campuses, with Plattsburgh State the only SUNY institution to have been extended a charter to date.
